Israel May Balk at Gaza Withdrawal UN Charges Reds With Enslavement Goal

Hungarian Withdrawal Is Sought Free Elections Aim of Assembly

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 10 (P)—The UN General Assembly last night termed Russia's military intervention in Hungary an "intolerable attempt" to enslave the Hungarian people.

The charge was included in a five-power resolution expressing concern over Soviet refusal to comply with a Nov. 4 UN order for Russian troops to pull out of war-torn Hungary.

Pushes Two Points
The assembly pushed its efforts today to get Soviet forces out of Hungary and a UN police force at work in Egypt.

The 76-nation assembly called a meeting (10:30 a. m. EST.) to transfer both questions from emergency special session to its 11th annual regular session starting Monday.

Officials said the assembly would give top priority to the two subjects in the three-month regular session, bypassing committee work to deal with them directly.

Call Passes 48-11
For the second time in six days, the assembly last night called on the Soviet Union to get its forces out of Hungary.

The call was contained in a resolution proposed by Cuba, Ireland, Italy, Pakistan and Peru. It passed 48-11 with only the Soviet bloc, India and Yugoslavia opposed.

In the resolution, the assembly said specifically for the first time that "free elections should be held in Hungary under United Nations auspices," once order had been restored.

Violations Noted
Bitterly critical of Soviet military intervention, it declared "the repression undertaken by the Soviet forces in Hungary" violated the UN charter and the 1947 Hungarian peace treaty. It also said foreign intervention there was an "intolerable attempt" to deny the people their rights.

The assembly passed two other resolutions for relief to the Hungarian people. One, sponsored by Austria, went through 67-0 with 8 abstentions. The other, sponsored by the United States, was adopted 53-9 with 13 abstentions.

Before passing the latter, the assembly voted down 45-18, with 12 abstentions, an effort of Ceylon, India and Indonesia to amend it so as to remove all language critical of the Soviet Union.

Backs U. S. Move

The new withdrawal demand reinforced a U. S. resolution the assembly adopted 50-8 last Sunday. The assembly repeated its request that UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld investigate the situation in Hungary "through representatives named by him." It asked him to report at the earliest possible moment and called him (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

CD Head Named To Harbor Group

Major H. Edgar Timmerman, Ulster county director of Civil Defense and chairman of the Ulster County Flood Control Advisory Committee, was today notified of his appointment to the advisory committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

The National Rivers and Harbors Congress is a non-partisan organization dedicated to the conservation and development of our water and land resources for all beneficial purposes. The Congress is now entering upon its 55th year, and its work has received the highest commendations of presidents, cabinet members, members of Congress, and other high officials, as well as leaders in the business and professional world.

Major Timmerman will be the advisory member for the 29th District of New York and was recommended by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton.

Ulster Passes Pay Increases

Increases for town of Ulster officials were approved by a split vote of the town board Friday night but the amounts were considerably less than originally proposed.

Approximately 250 residents of the township were present. The board adopted increases totaling $3,060 for 12 officials, $4,440 less than the $7,500 proposed in the tentative budget.

Favored by 3-2 Vote

The board voted 3 to 2 in favor of the increases. Voting in favor were Justices of the Peace Harold E. Macholdt, Jr., and Millard Davis and one of the councilmen, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Acker. Voting against the increases were Supervisor Percy Bush and Councilman Edgar P. Elliott.

The increases were as follows: Supervisor Bush, $300; Justice Macholdt and Justice Davis, $400 each; Councilman Elliott and Mrs. Acker, $100 each; Mrs. Laura Every, town clerk, $460; Vernon Felton, road superintendent, $300; Roger Boice, LeRoy Crosby and Frank Phinney, assessors, a total of $400; Ira B. Auchmoody, collector of taxes, $100, and town attorney, Louis diDonna, $500.

Original Proposals

Increases originally proposed were: Supervisor Bush, $700; Justice Macholdt and Justice Davis, $800 each; Councilman Elliott and Mrs. Acker, $200 each; Mrs. Every, town clerk, $600; Mr. Felton, $900; Mr. Boice, Mr. Crosby and Mr. Phinney, a total of $1,000; Mr. Auchmoody, $300, and town attorney, $2,000.

Salaries for next year will be as follows: Supervisor Bush, $3,600; Justices Macholdt and Davis, $2,350 each; Councilman Elliott and Mrs. Acker, $1,300 each; Mrs. Every, $3,500; Mr. Felton, $3,600; three assessors, a combined salary of $4,400; Mr. Auchmoody, $1,600, and Mr. diDonna $3,500.

A public hearing on the proposed salary schedule was held at the town barn Wednesday night with approximately 300 people present.

Scramble Begun for Key Posts Parties to Fill Leadership Roles

Washington, Nov. 10 (P)—A polite but determined scramble was under way today among both Democratic and Republican senators for party leadership posts at the January session.

At stake are the jobs of assistant Democratic leader held by Sen. Clements (D-Ky.), who lost his bid for re-election, and chairman of the Republican conference, vacant because Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.) did not seek another term.

Two Are Wary

Both Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California were wary about predicting who will step into the vacancies.

They insist that the pre-session party conferences or caucuses will bestow honors. Actually the word of a Senate party leader usually carries great weight at these closed-door sessions.

Unlike committee chairmanships, the Senate party leadership posts are not decided on the basis of seniority or length of service.

Senate Democrats operate under a leader and his assistant, while the Republicans, in addition, have a policy committee chairman, now Sen. Bridges (R-Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Cold, Snow Hit Parts of State; More Is Forecast

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10 (P)—Temperatures dipped to a low of 10 degrees overnight and light snow skipped across the state to give New Yorkers the word that winter's on its way.

Cold blasts from Hudson Bay, drawn by a high pressure area over the Great Lakes, penetrated the entire northeast. Continued cold was forecast for tonight.

It was 10 above early today at Ogdensburg on the Canadian border. The Weather Bureau reported a low of 12 at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks. Temperatures ranged from 15 to 20 in parts of northern, western and central New York and in the 20s elsewhere.

Three inches of snow was reported in outlying areas of Boonville, in the foothills of the Adirondacks. There was an inch of snow on the ground at Bingham (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

GOC to Discuss 'Ready Reserve' Status on Monday

Information concerning the local Ground Observer Corps post going on "Ready Reserve" will be discussed at a meeting of the local observation post which will be held Monday at the Court House at 8 p. m., it was announced today by Mrs. Dewey Logan, post supervisor.

Mrs. Logan said she had called the special meeting for all observers of the local post and those who have resigned due to personal obligations.

"The purpose of this meeting is to release important information received from Lt. Gen. C. R. Huebner, director of New York State Civil Defense, Donald A. Quarles, secretary, Department of the Air Force, Gov. Averell Harriman and Capt. Leo L. Gerwiler, USAF commander, Albany Filter Center, regarding the observation post going on "Ready Reserve," Mrs. Logan said.

The letter from Gen. Huebner to Mrs. Logan reads as follows: "I am sure you all realize the importance of this change in our civil defense setup and the part that you play in assisting the air force in the detection of aircraft."

"If your post is one that remains on duty 24 hours a day it is imperative that it be manned at all times because—until posts in the Ready Reserve are alerted and manned—we can no longer rely on the inland posts to back you up on a sneak attack."

"If your post is one that goes on a Ready Reserve, I am sure that you will realize the importance of being ready to man your post in 15 or 20 minutes. In the event that the air force finds it necessary to notify you to man your post it will probably be essential that every post in the United States be manned."

"Training exercises will be held periodically to test operational and alerting procedures. I am sure that all members of the Ground Observer Corps feel that the air force is doing (Continued on Page 16, Col. 2)

Benedictine Goal $400,000

Need Is Stressed To Train Nurses

A minimum capital funds campaign goal of $400,000 for the Benedictine Hospital's School of Nursing and Residence was reaffirmed here yesterday by the advisory board.

Presided over by former State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, the board discussed preliminary phases of the campaign which will get under way shortly.

There must be no delay in erecting the building, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, president of the hospital, told the meeting. "Full state accreditation of the school is dependent upon the new building," he added.

Total Cost About Million

According to present plans, the $400,000 to be raised throughout Ulster county will go toward building a new nurses' school and residence estimated to cost at least $1,000,000.

Bequests and contributions specifically allocated by donors for the project, together with interest earned, a gift from the Ford Foundation and a mortgage will make up the balance of the amount needed for the project.

Not Enough Room

The present Benedictine Hospital Nurses' Home, built in 1920, has accommodations for only 18 students. But there are 65 student nurses in training at the hospital, and many more had to be denied admittance this year because of the lack of facilities.

Students are being temporarily housed in small, private houses which the hospital has purchased. Classes are also being held in converted homes and in hospital rooms.

Would House 100 Students
Plans call for the building of a three-story brick structure on Mary's avenue to house 100 students. Classes would be held on the lower floor. The second and third floors would contain 50 twin-bedded rooms for students and four rooms for instructors. Offices would also be located on the ground floor.

Dr. William S. Bush, hospital chief-of-staff and a member of the board, emphasized yesterday the need for the new school and residence. He also pointed out that the completed project would free hospital space which would be converted into an operation recovery room.

Lefren Stresses Support

Edward K. Lefren, works manager of the Hercules Powder Company, at Port Ewen, pointed out that a hospital must provide facilities for training nurses. "It is not fulfilling its full function if it does not," he said.

Lefren also noted that the community should give the hospital its full support since it was providing a three-year nursing education (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

Egypt Is In Favor Of Troops Patrol Force Is On Way to Canal

London, Nov. 10 (P)—Advance units of a UN police force, made up of soldiers from 17 nations, prepared to move to the Suez Canal Zone today to take on the task of keeping peace in the Middle East.

Establishment of the world peace patrol received at least qualified approval last night in Cairo. The other nations involved in recent fighting—Britain, France and Israel—already had promised to turn over occupation duties in Egypt to the UN force.

Area Under Dispute

But there was growing evidence that Israel intends to remain in the Gaza strip, a 25-mile Mediterranean coastal area from which Israeli forces ousted Egyptian defenders last week. The UN General Assembly resolution that set up the peace patrol called for withdrawal of all other foreign forces from Egypt. The general feeling in Israel was that Israeli forces would leave Egypt's Sinai Peninsula but that Gaza, which the Egyptians have administered for eight years, actually is part of Palestine and Israel would seek to retain it.

A gigantic airlift was underway to carry units of the new police force to the Middle East.

Going in U. S. Planes

The vanguard of the forces, between 300 and 400 troops from Norway and Denmark, were to be flown in U. S. Air Force planes to a staging area near Naples, Italy. After a brief stop, they are to continue on in Swiss planes.

Two other U. S. planes went to Bogota, Colombia, to get another contingent of the peace patrol. The five permanent members of the UN Security Council—the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Nationalist China—were forbidden to assign troops to the UN force although U. S. logistical support was accepted.

Beachhead Quiet

The beachhead at the north end of the Suez Canal that British and French invasion forces seized earlier this week was quiet. Britain began pulling ashore (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

No Mail Service Here on Monday

There will be no mail delivery Monday, Veteran's Day, and windows at all local post offices will be closed, it was announced today by Oscar V. Newkirk, acting postmaster of this city.

Lobbies of the offices will be open for the convenience of box-holders, however, all day in the central station and two hours in the morning at the uptown and downtown branches.

Here's the schedule:
Central station, 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Uptown branch, 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m.

Downtown branch, 7 a. m. to 9 a. m.

Veteran's Day is a legal holiday for postal employees.

Soper Urges Parents Visit Schools During Nov. 12-17

"This next week the Kingston City schools will witness the nation and participate in American Education Week. May I take this opportunity to extend to each and all a cordial welcome to visit your schools, to meet the members of the staff and observe the daily functioning of the educational program."

"You will want to learn of all educational opportunities afforded the children and question the staff concerning the problems of the local schools. Education today is a cooperative venture. Your cooperation is solicited—your suggestions appreciated."

These are the words in which Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Late Bulletin

Reds Warn West

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—Moscow Radio announced tonight that if Allied forces are not withdrawn from Egypt Soviet authorities will not prevent Russian "volunteers" from intervening.

The Moscow broadcast quoted a statement issued by the official Soviet news agency Tass. It said:

"Soviet government circles express satisfaction at the British and French acceptance of the cease-fire. While welcoming this latest move they express apprehension lest the move should have the ulterior motive of obtaining a breathing space for their troops."

Badenhausen Named To Ballantine Post

Newark, N. J., Nov. 12—The appointment of Carl S. Badenhausen as assistant general sales manager of P. Ballantine & Sons has been announced by W. H. Alley, general sales manager of the Newark brewery.

Mr. Badenhausen joined Ballantine's in 1950 after being graduated from Cornell University and worked variously in the brewing, bottling and transportation divisions before entering the sales department.

He has been assistant to the associate general sales manager in charge of New England distributor operations. In his new post Mr. Badenhausen will handle special assignments in general sales activities.

Fogler New Director On Grand Union Board

One of the nation's leading executives has been elected to the board of directors of the Grand Union Company, a 353-store food chain.

He is Raymond H. Fogler, assistant secretary of the navy, former president of W. T. Grant Company, the department store organization with which he started his career in 1919.

Announcement of his election to the Grand Union board was made in East Paterson, N. J., by Lansing P. Shield, president of the food chain.

Mr. Fogler was vice president, general manager and director of Montgomery Ward & Company, and from 1938 to 1940 served as president.

Returning to the Grant company he was its president until he retired in 1952.

He also served as a trustee of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Company, a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce and held directorships with the National Retail Dry Goods Association, the American Management Association and the Industry Association of New York city.

He is a graduate of the University of Maine.

Saugerties Group To Protest New Reappraisal Roll

A committee of residents of the village of Saugerties is making plans for a protest meeting to be held Wednesday night against the new reappraisal program, an informed source told The Freeman this morning.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m. if the committee is able to find a suitable hall available, the spokesman said.

Heights Group Acts

Action was motivated by a group of Barclay Heights residents following the issuance this week of a brochure listing the names of all property owners in the village with new assessments designed to show 100 per cent valuation.

Robert L. Carrington, village attorney told The Freeman there is no valid reason for a protest meeting. Any inequities in the assessments should be discussed with Mr. Gokey. If mistakes have been made, they will be corrected, he said.

A member of the taxpayer's groups said that many residents have already discussed alleged inequities with Mr. Gokey and have not been satisfied with his decision. "We concede that in view of the expansion and additional expenses of the village a slight tax raise is necessary, but we cannot condone some of the glaring inequities evident in the new assessment roll," the spokesman said.

Assessors in Charge

Gokey Associates of Albany, professional assessors, are in charge of the reappraisal program authorized by the Village Board of Trustees. Authorization for reassessment was voted by the board following a public hearing despite an earlier referendum in which village voters turned down a proposal to reassess all village properties.

The mimeographed brochure listing reappraisal figures noted that Mr. Gokey will be at the office of the village clerk in Saugerties Municipal building from November 12 to 20 to discuss and review assessments with the taxpayers.

The brochure also said that for the purpose of comparison the new appraisal value would have resulted in a tax rate of $9.41 per thousand, based on the last village budget.

Locked Out, He Shoots At Door of Tavern

A 45-year old man put a couple pistol shots through the door of a Palenville tavern early this morning when the owner refused to unlock it, according to Catskill State Police.

Lee Harper Allen, RD 1 Saugerties, was arrested by troopers on a charge of public intoxication. It is reported that a more serious charge is pending.

Troopers said Allen, who had been drinking, left the bar, owned by Gustav Louis Bel, 49, and returned about 2 a. m. to find it locked.

When Bel refused to open up he "put a couple shots through the door" with an automatic pistol, troopers said.

Israeli Commander Dead

Jerusalem, Nov. 10 (AP)—Col. Assaf Simhoni, commander of Israel's Sinai campaign against Egypt, died. An Israeli liaison plane shot down by Jordan anti-aircraft gunners Wednesday yielded his body and those of two fellow officers. Jordan turned over the bodies of Simhoni, Lt. Col. M. Dromi and Pilot Benjamin Gordon to Israel today. Their plane—on a flight from Elath on the Gulf of Aqaba to Tel Aviv—was shot down far off course over the town of Aljoun, in North Jordan 20 miles southeast of the Sea of Galilee. The Israeli army reported Thursday Simhoni was missing on the flight.

ROK Troops Alerted

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 10 (AP)—Gen. Lee Heung Keun, South Korean Army chief of staff, said today his troops have been alerted to recent "Communist troop and vehicle movements" toward the east central armistice line. He added, however, "there is nothing serious." Lee talked to reporters after a 40-minute session with the defense minister followed by a 3 hour 20 minute emergency cabinet meeting to "discuss the tense world situation and our military preparedness."

sault forces out of Port Said and replacing them with regular infantry. The British have promised that these troops would leave when the UN force can take over.

A cease-fire has been in effect in the Suez battle zone three days.

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, who was chosen by the General Assembly to head the peace patrol, apparently secured assurances of cooperation during two days of conferences with Egyptian officials in Cairo.

Wants Veto Right

The Egyptian official spokesman, Abdel Kader Hattam, said his government had agreed provisionally to the peace patrol. He said Egypt was considering the makeup of the patrol, and that it must be able to exercise a veto of places where the force will operate.

Some fears that the Soviet Union was moving to intervene in the Middle East lessened somewhat. Duncan Sandys, British parliamentary undersecretary for air, told a Conservative Party rally:

"So far as we know, there is no foundation for the belief that there has been any significant movement of Russian aircraft into the area. Neither has there been any large scale buildup of Egyptian forces which would lead us to believe they were likely to attack British troops on the canal. Indeed, they would be unwise to contemplate it."

Canada Warns Egypt

Canada, meanwhile, warned Egypt to stop trying to recruit Canadians for her armed forces. At the outset of the British-French attack Egypt had called for volunteers from throughout the world to help defend her against what she termed aggression. Canadian Foreign Minister Lester Pearson said he had told the Egyptian ambassador in Ottawa that appeals for volunteers were not in accord with diplomatic practice.

Both Russia and Communist China have announced that thousands of their citizens have offered to go to Egypt's aid but there has been no concrete move to send Communist "volunteers."

N. H.), and a conference chairman, the post now vacant.

'Clements Has Blow'

Johnson told a news conference yesterday that the defeat of Clements in Kentucky was "a great blow" and he had "not given any thought" to filling the post of Democratic whip.

Half a dozen other Democratic senators aided Johnson and Clements last session by serving as acting leader at various times.

They include Sens. Smathers of Florida, who headed the Senate Democratic campaign committee this year; Kennedy of Massachusetts, who came close to winning the vice presidential nomination; Humphrey of Minnesota; Long of Louisiana, Gore of Tennessee, and Morse of Oregon.

The Republican conference chairman presides at closed-door meetings of all Republican senators. He normally irones out squabbles over committee assignments and tries to harmonize differences over controversial legislation by pointing up administration policies and requests.

He is one of the top congressional leaders invited to White House conferences on legislation and other matters. Some Republicans wondered if President Eisenhower's proposals for shaping a modern Republican party for the future will be given weight in filling the post.

There was speculation that Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) who has supported most Eisenhower proposals, might switch from his job as assistant Republican leader to conference chairman.

Others Considered

Other Republicans expected to get consideration for the vacancy include Sens. Bricker of Ohio, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, Hickenlooper of Iowa and Dirksen of Illinois. Dirksen and Hickenlooper are among Republicans returned for six year terms by elections this week.

Johnson told newsmen he is confident that Democrats will again organize and control the Senate at the new session despite their slim 49-47 margin and rumors that not all Democrats will be on hand when Congress meets Jan. 3.

50 Danes Depart

Karup Airbase, Denmark, Nov. 10 (AP)—Fifty Danish infantrymen took off from here today as part of the United Nations police force for the Middle East. With rifles slung over their shoulders they climbed aboard a U. S. Air Force C144 Transport. It was expected the Danes, all volunteers, would go first to an Italian base to join other UN forces for the final leg to Egypt. A plane load of Norwegian troops was also reported flying to the Middle East via Naples.

Searches for Plane

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—A coast guard plane searched over the Atlantic today, some 400 miles north of Bermuda, for an aircraft earlier reported in flames by the skipper of a freighter. The coast guard cutter Chincoteague was speeding to the scene and hoped to reach the area around 8 a. m. (EST) today. No planes have been reported missing by commercial airlines or by the army, navy and air force.

Reports Liquor Stolen

George Schmitt, proprietor of the Royal Grill, 352 Broadway, reported to police at 10:05 a. m. today that someone stole 36 quarts of liquor from the store-room on or about Nov. 8. He said it was valued at $139.

Two Pay $30 in Fines For Traffic Counts

One driver, arrested Friday night on a speeding count, paid a $20 fine in City Court today, and another, arrested on a charge of being an unlicensed operator, paid $10 fine and received a 10-day suspended sentence.

Claude P. Gible, 22, of 268 East Chester street, arrested at 11:59 p. m. on a speeding charge at East Chester and Garrison streets by Officers Gilbert Gray and Gerald McCloskey, paid a $20 fine.

Calvin Singleton, 22, of 110 Gage street, paid a $10 fine and received a 10-day suspended sentence. He was picked up at 10:50 p. m. by Officers Gray and McCloskey on Broadway near McEntee street on charge of being an unlicensed operator.

tax reductions, probably by increasing the present $600 exemption for dependents. In granting tax relief, Capitol Hill would be inclined to favor individuals over corporations.

Many felt there was a better than even chance that Congress would broaden the minimum wage act to include retail store employees (department stores are now exempt). And it was considered a safe bet that the President would sign any such legislation.

Brightest spot in the business picture this week was Detroit. Auto assembly lines were moving faster than at any time since mid-April; Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants across the nation went on overtime.

Auto dealers, after crying the blues for months, had cause for celebration. For the first time in over a year they had more customers than cars. Customers had to wait for delivery of wanted models; dealers' profits per car were the highest since 1955.

Meanwhile manufacturers continued to boost their prices. Consumer demand for the rakish new 1957 models was a tonic to dealers who had found the 1956 models hard to sell. How long would the boom last? Retailers and manufacturers could only wait and see. They were confident, though, that if it held through March 1, another record sales year might well be in prospect.

Briefly over the business scene:

New construction spending declined seasonally in October to $4,126,000,000 from $4,250,000,000 in September but was still well above a year ago. October records were set for construction of factories, roads, office buildings, public schools and churches. . . . The "average" U. S. factory worker earned $83.01 in October, a new high. . . . The army announced contract awards totaling nearly three million dollars to Ford, Chevrolet and American Motors for passenger cars and station wagons.

UN Charges . . .

to "suggest methods to bring an end to the existing situation in Hungary."

The newly adopted Austrian relief resolution appeals to all countries to help Hamarskjold in "large scale immediate aid" to Hungary, including medical supplies, food and clothing. The U. S. resolution has similar provisions and also asks Hamarskjold to work for emergency assistance for Hungarian refugees, through the UN refugee office and otherwise. It urges UN members to contribute. The resolution, in language the Asian amendments would have knocked out, accuses the Soviet Union of unjust "actions against Hungarian population" and asks it not to interfere with relief distribution.

Blames West Attitude

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily V. Kuznetsov told the assembly "certain circles" in the United States, Britain and France were trying to put land-lords and capitalists back into authority in Hungary. Now that they have seen the Hungarian uprising fail, he declared, they are using the UN "to fan the flames of a new war."

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., of the United States, taking issue with the Asian countries that they sought to tone down his resolution, made an obvious reference to their recent severe criticism of the British, French and Israeli invasions of Egypt.

"If we are going to raise our voices against occupation by foreign troops in one part of the world, then we must be equally steadfast, we must be equally stalwart, in the other parts of the world," Lodge said.

The temperature was 21 at Rochester this morning, breaking the old record of 23 set for the date in 1933. A light snow was falling.

In Buffalo the mercury hit 23, one above the record. It was 15 at Little Valley in western New York.

The weather bureau gave these overnight lows:

Seven Escape Injury as Two Autos Collide

Seven people, including two infants, escaped injury in a two-car head-on collision early Friday night on Lucas avenue extension three miles south of Kingston although the vehicles were so badly damaged they had to be towed away.

Six occupants of one of the cars were taken to Benedictine Hospital for checks but none were admitted. Troopers William Shurtner and Joseph Ellsworth of the Kingston state police said no injuries were reported.

They were John George Stote, Jr., 18, of Binnewater, his wife, Harriet, 18, their son, John, nine months, Gilbert Pigeon, 22, Mrs. Pigeon, 18, and their year-old son, Stephen.

Troopers said a 1952 coupe operated by Wayne Gifford Archibald, 32, of 203 Washington avenue, traveling south, was in collision with a 1953 sedan operated by Mr. Stote, proceeding north.

Both vehicles were approaching the crest of a small knoll when they saw each other's headlights, applied brakes but were unable to avoid collision. The collision, left front to left front, occurred in the middle of the road, according to troopers. Time of the accident was listed at 8:10 p. m.

Police Hold Two For Car Theft In New Paltz

Two Long Island youths were arrested early this morning by Newburgh state police in a car allegedly stolen from a New Paltz street earlier Friday evening.

They are John Stewart, 18, Ozone Park, and Henry Lovs, 17, St. Albans.

The car, a 1953 black sedan owned by Eleanor Ives of New Paltz, was stolen from the street near the New Paltz State Teachers College, according to troopers.

State police sent out a message alerting area police authorities and the two youths were picked up by Newburgh troopers about 1 a. m. on Route 32 in Newburgh. They were allegedly in the stolen car when stopped. They were proceeding south at the time.

They reportedly admitted theft of the vehicle.

The youths had examination when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Patsy Conforti of Highland and were committed to the Ulster county jail to await action of the grand jury.

AN EXPRESSION OF TRUST

President Eisenhower's re-election to a second term is above all a reaffirmation of the deep trust with which he is regarded by a majority of Americans.

The fact of this trustful relationship was well established before the 1956 campaign. Nothing which took place in the pre-election campaigning served to shatter that basic attitude of confidence in the President.

Indeed, there is substantial evidence that both world events and the developments of the campaign itself actually reinforced Mr. Eisenhower's hold on the American people. Election eve soundings indicated that he rather than Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, was the chief beneficiary of the grave uncertainties which arose from war in the Middle East and Soviet satellite revolt in Eastern Europe.

The evidence suggested, too, that the President gained votes both among Democrats and fence-sitters as result of Stevenson's proposals for a ban on H-bomb tests and an early end to the draft.

The popular feeling was that on balance Mr. Eisenhower, an experienced military man, was better qualified than Stevenson to determine these matters and to guide the nation in a troubled time.

Working for the President in this field was the fact that America itself had not been involved in a shooting war since the Korean war was ended in the first months of his administration. Clearly this was of overriding importance to many millions of Americans in all walks of life.

As the Democrats failed to shake the overwhelming popular confidence in the President's ability to preserve the peace, so they failed to convince most Americans that today's prosperity is false.

Some farmers, as predicted, turned against Ike in the grain belt states, but nowhere was the defection big enough to pull a state into Stevenson's column.

All over the land the figures showed that in the vital economic sphere Mr. Eisenhower's strength not only held but in many cases was heavily enlarged over 1952. Big cities long Democratic strongholds toppled into his column.

Millions of workers stayed with him not only on the peace issue but on the ground that they had during his first regime enjoyed perhaps the best four years they had ever known. The old link between the Republicans and depression was manifestly weakened.

Combating a popular President who could employ "peace and prosperity" as his principal battle cry would not have been easy for the Democratic party under the best of circumstances.

But their difficulties were compounded by the gradually emerging evidence that Stevenson as a candidate could not fire the popular imagination. His political personality did not register with many millions, and he could not find the issues from which to build a winning trend.

At 66, President Eisenhower again has the people's mandate to take them safely through perilous international seas on a course of widening social and economic progress.

MORE TESTS NEEDED

Americans are prone to seize upon new remedies for old ailments. So much has been written about wonder drugs that there is a tendency to depend upon them in almost any situation.

It is thus no surprise that the so-called tranquilizing drugs have gained widespread popularity in a very short time. A startling number of people are taking such drugs to relieve tension and anxiety.

Now it is beginning to be clear that numerous physicians have doubts as to whether such drugs are entirely beneficial. It is being suggested that in some cases their harmful effects may outweigh their value. More tests are needed. Therefore, it is good news that the Public Health Service is undertaking a thorough study of the tranquilizers.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE PEOPLE SPEAK

The volume of votes cast in the 1956 election, more than 51,000,000 out of a total population of 168,000,000, clearly indicates that the people not only spoke but wished to speak. No one in the United States is required to vote; it is a wholly voluntary process. Eisenhower received more than a majority of the popular vote; the electoral vote does not present the same proportions as the popular vote. In the electoral vote, state by state, winner takes all.

Eisenhower's popularity held up despite the use that was made by the opposition of his ill-health. If anything, this particular argument hurt Stevenson, as Eisenhower appeared hale and often on the television screen to millions of Americans and sometimes he looked less tired than his younger challenger.

As most humans have, at one time or another, been sick of a man or less serious nature, the realization that Ike had a thrombosis and an illness evoked not only sympathy but a pride in his energetic comeback.

Another argument that fouled the opposition was "part-time President." It sounded far-fetched. In this 40-hour-a-week country, who is not working part-time? And the assumption is that if the business of the nation gets done to the satisfaction of the people, it only goes to show that Eisenhower knows how to organize his office. The golf ball and the maulie may yet become the symbol of the era. Walter Reuther, who advocates a 30-hour week surely cannot object to a President who gets his work done without a stop watch. At any rate, the people so voted.

Another argument that ran foul is that Americans can be led by the nose on a class-conscious basis. Eisenhower carried all the distinctively farm states except six in the South and it was Eisenhower and his Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, who proposed and pursued a farm policy which the Democrats said was ruining the farmer and returning him to the Democratic fold. Except as it affected some members of Congress, and that could also be over other matters, the farmers, by and large, helped to increase the Eisenhower vote.

Similarly, Eisenhower could not have carried such industrial states as Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Connecticut and Ohio if the political efforts of the A.F.L.-C.I.O. counted for much. The evidence is that the American worker while belonging to a union votes for candidates for public office as he chooses. He does not regard the political judgment of his leaders as better than his own.

Also it does not appear in any figures that there was any show of racial or nationality antagonism to the President or that, in this election, such matters counted.

Stevenson undoubtedly frightened some who might have voted for him by his pursuit of the argument that the H-bomb should not be tested. It sounded unrealistic. It gave the impression of careless judgment particularly after the Russian invasion of Hungary and the brutal proposal to the United States that the two atomic nations, the United States and Soviet Russia, join to take the British and the French out of the Suez enterprise. It seemed to many that whereas Stevenson may have had a valid argument about radioactive strontium, this country had to go on testing as long as Soviet Russia rejected every proposal to limit or even abolish the use of atomic and hydrogen bombs by international control and inspection. At any rate, Stevenson's approach to this problem lost for him the confidence of many voters who feared that he accepted immature advice too willingly.

The same applied to his argument concerning the extremely unpopular draft, which most parents fear and hate. But the feeling was also strong that this was not the time to bring up such a subject, not when there was shooting in the Middle East and in Hungary and when Iceland was throwing us out and who can tell what will happen next? It was the wrong campaign in which to take up an issue which, under some circumstances, might have been popular.

Undoubtedly, there will be weeks of discussion about this campaign, but this much looks certain: The Democrats need a new type of leadership if they are to win in 1960. Their present position resembles that of the Republican Party after the defeat of Wendell Willkie.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

NUTRITION IN MENTAL HOSPITALS
It is a very difficult thing to keep track of just how much food a patient in hospital is actually eating. The physician may order a 3,000 calorie upbuilding diet and such a diet may be placed on the patient's tray, but it is another thing to see that the patient eats it. Or it sometimes happens that the patient does not select, from the ample menu presented him, enough food to be anywhere near 3,000 calories. Unless the patient has a special nurse to keep track of every meal, such shortages in his diet are missed.

New we read of a survey of the nutrition of patients in a mental hospital that accommodates 2,300 patients reported in the English medical magazine The Lancet. The survey covered a period of three years. The food issued to the patients was measured and the amount actually consumed was calculated by subtracting the waste left on the plates.

What did this survey reveal? While only a few cases of deficiency diseases such as pellagra (lack of Vitamin G) and scurvy (lack of Vitamin C) were found, detailed study showed many latent or hidden deficiencies which would in time take on a more open form.

The food apparently supplied sufficient calories, averaging about 2,800 daily, but the hemoglobin (iron in the blood) levels and intakes of carotenoids (plants with yellow pigment such as carrots), Vitamin A (found in cod-liver oil, butter, whole milk, cheese, cream, liver, heart, kidneys, and yellow, green and red vegetables), and ascorbic acid (found in citrus fruits) were all low. The hemoglobin level was found to be about 15 per cent lower than that found in people living in homes for the aged.

Many patients had skin conditions over the buttocks and outer side of the arms, gingivitis (inflammation of the gums), stomatitis (inflammation of the mouth), and extensive blue pimply discolorations of the legs, ankles and forearms.

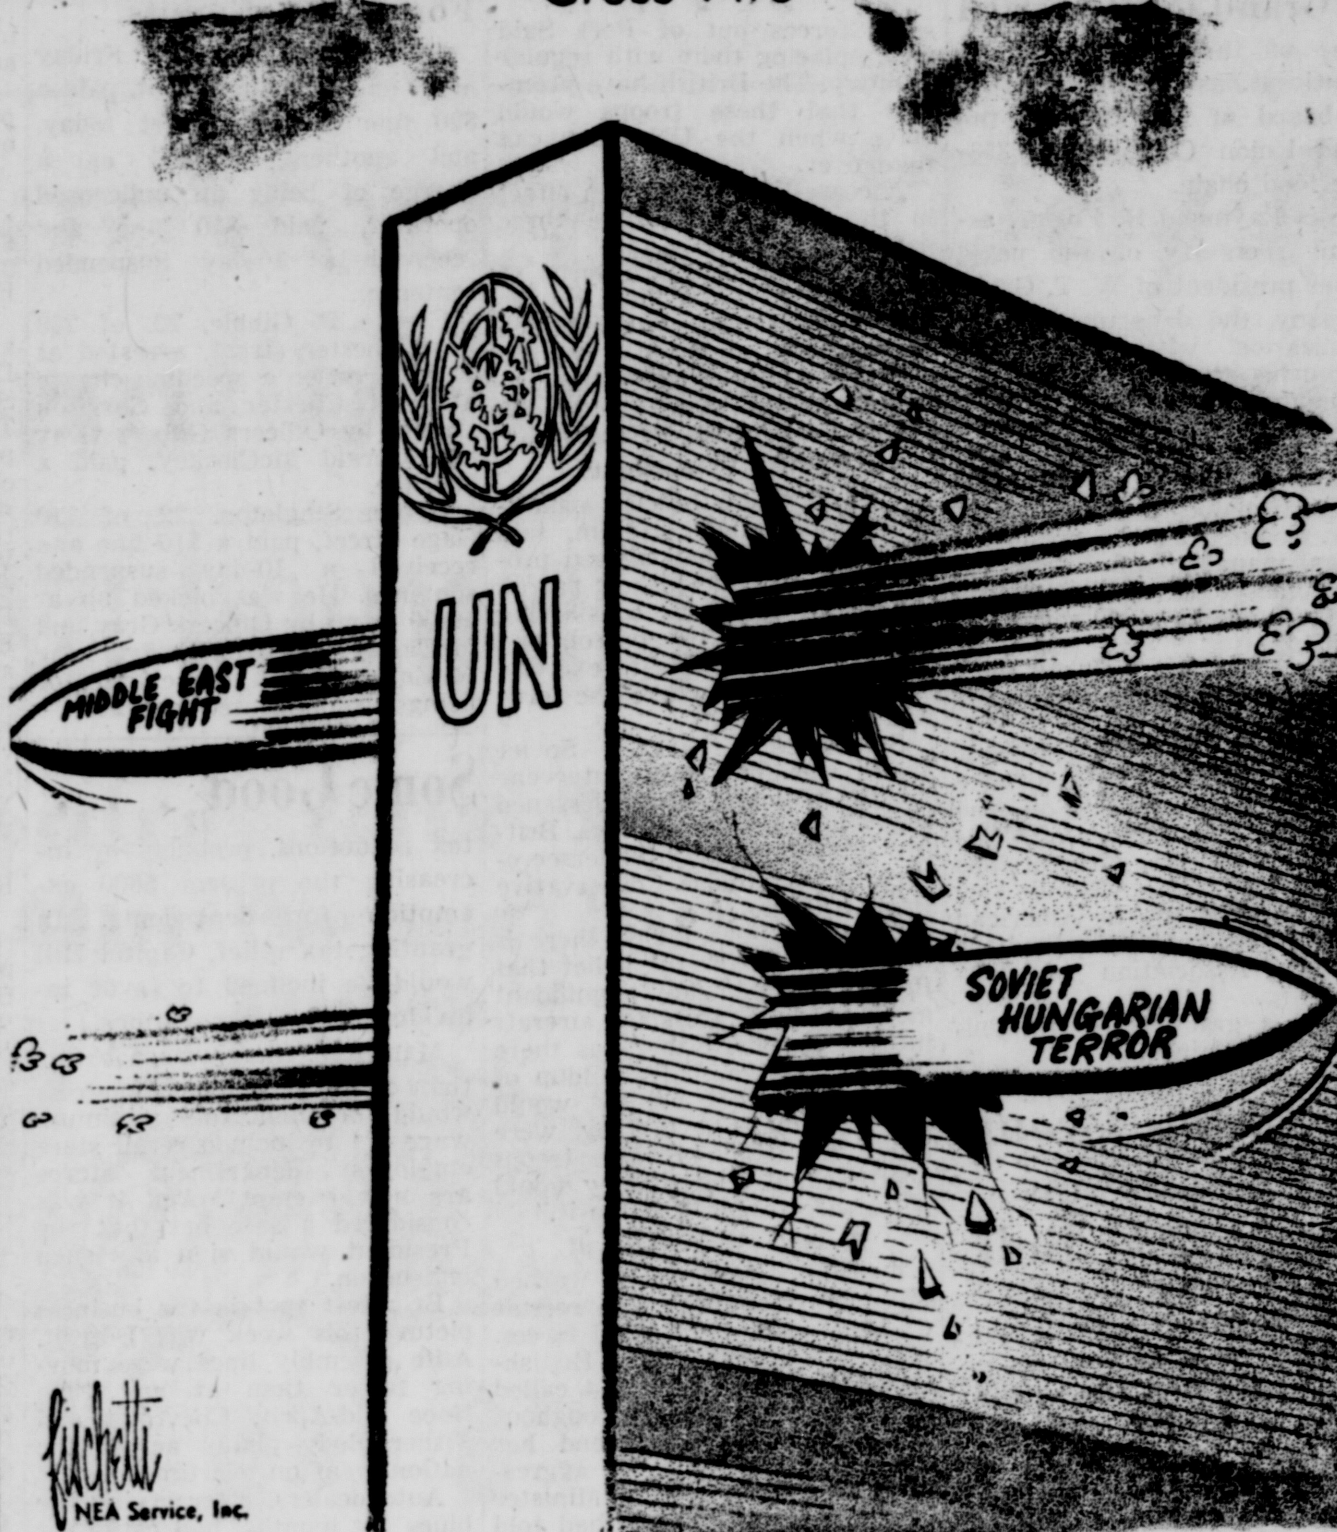

While it is easier to say something than to do it, these research physicians emphasize the need to reorganize catering arrangements in mental hospitals. They believe that the present scant supply of vegetables could be increased easily by working the farms often attached to mental hospitals more efficiently. "Vitamin A and C supplements could be given but this is a poor substitute for good food. The problem is also complicated by the fact that many of the hospital kitchens are obsolete and difficult to work in. Also, the money allowed for food is much too low."

Those of us who are aware of the extent of mental illness in our country, more hospital beds being used for mental illness than all other forms of illness combined, will realize how important it is that those who are living in mental institutions be properly fed. It is not just the number of calories that is important, there must also be enough vitamins and minerals.

Cross Fire

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington (NEA) — The postelection consensus in the average American family will probably be that President Eisenhower won clean and fair.

There can be no criticism from the Democrats on the type of campaign he waged. There can be no cry of "foul."

There can be no cause for resentment, as there might have been if the election result had been the other way.

Ex-President Harry S. Truman predicted at the opening of the Democratic national convention in Chicago that ex-Gov. Adlai Stevenson could not defeat Eisenhower. There is no assurance that Truman's preferred candidate, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—or any other Democrat for that matter—could have done any better. Truman himself revised his prediction after Stevenson defeated Harriman and the others at Chicago.

BUT IF THERE IS any one thing that defeated Stevenson in the election, it was probably the fact that he followed too much the Harry Truman "give 'em hell" type of campaign.

Either by his own choice or because of bad advice, Stevenson stepped completely out of character to wage his campaign of personal abuse for the Republican candidates.

The campaign issues he chose to emphasize were not his constructive ideas for a better program for a better America. Instead, he harped on criticism. It didn't go over.

Other factors entered into the result, of course. Organized labor's Committee on Political Education just didn't produce.

except in scattered local results. Secy. of Labor James P. Mitchell probably called the turn in declaring that the election results dispel the myth that the Democratic party is the party of labor.

THE REVOLT of the farmers didn't materialize either. Secy. of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson campaigned all through the farm belt, faced his critics in more than 100 meetings, and obviously won over the majority.

He was aided materially, of course, by a farm program which spent government money liberally on the soil bank and on the purchase of hamburger, pork, turkeys, eggs and other perishables in which surpluses appeared. There was nothing wrong about this, for it was all authorized by law, and the Democrats did it, too, when they were in power.

Two other truisms are being applied: Nothing succeeds like success. There is no substitute for money.

The man in the White House always has the advantage in an election. President Eisenhower made the most of that, too.

By comparison, the Democratic campaign never got off the ground.

ONLY THE SIZE of the Republican majority and its sweep through the South—far greater than even the most optimistic polls predicted—give cause for surprise. All the political analyses that it would be a much closer race than four years ago were made ridiculous.

After such a sweeping victory it is always easy to say that the losing party is through. But such forecasts have never paid off.

The final words of both 1956 candidates serve as challenges to the two parties for 1960, when there will be new faces at the head of both tickets:

"We have lost the battle but our cause will ultimately prevail," said Stevenson. "Be of good cheer."

"As long as the Republican party remains true to the ideals of America," said President Eisenhower, "it will continue to increase in power for years to come."

Week's Business &amp; Finance Reported by AP

Lower Average

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—The stock market celebrated President Eisenhower's re-election this week but a shaky international situation unsettled prices and left them lower on average.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.30 to $178.90 as it shed away from continuing last week's advance.

It was an historic week for what has been called the "Eisenhower market." The trading week was shortened by Election Day when exchanges were closed but the daily volume average was 2,286,639, making it the heaviest trading since early August when warlike moves over the Suez Canal brought waves of selling.

The President's tremendous victory was sensed by Wall Street on Monday when the market staged an election rally, making its only daily advance of the week. Booming prospects for the steel industry spurred industrial issues and even the badly-mailed international oil shot ahead after early losses when news came of a cease-fire at Port Said. The 2,830,000 shares traded that day made it the biggest market session since June 8 when Eisenhower's intestinal ailment hammered down prices and 3,630,000 shares changes hands.

Aircrafts did quite well during the week, with gains of 3% for Curtiss-Wright, 2% for Boeing, and 1% for Lockheed. Gulf Oil, heavily involved in the Middle East, lost 2%.

The five most active issues on the American Stock Exchange were: Pan-Israel Oil off 1/4 at 13/16 on 166,800 shares; British Petroleum off 1/4 at 17 1/2; Israel-Mediterranean Petroleum off 3/16 at 3 1/2; Sterling Precision up 1/4 at 3 1/2; and Equity Corp up 1/4 at 4.

The five most active issues on the New York Stock Exchange were: U. S. Steel, up 1/4 at 70 on 172,000 shares; Royal Dutch off 3/4 at 100 1/2; Standard Oil (New Jersey) off 1/4 at 53 1/2; General Motors off 1/4 at 46 1/2; and Glenn L. Martin up 2 1/2 at 41 1/2.

Pork Takes Drop
Chicago, Nov. 10 (AP)—Butcher hogs dropped 50 to 60 cents and sows 25 to 50 cents in the livestock market this week.

Salable receipts totaled 56,800 head, largest for any week since January. This was mainly responsible for the price down as wholesale pork prices fluctuated within narrow price limits all week.

Top for the week was $16.00. At the close it was $15.25. This contrasted with $14.00 and $13.65 in the same week last year.

In the cattle section a two way trend developed on slaughter steers. Prime kinds sold steady to 50 cents lower but all other types ended with gains. Top steer price for the week was $31.00, set by high prime offerings.

Lambs closed steady to 50 cents lower and sheep strong to 50 cents higher, lower wholesale dressed lamb prices and fairly large receipts depressed the live lamb trade. Wholesale prices at Chicago dropped $1.50 to $2.00.

Grain Prices Advance

Chicago, Nov. 10 (AP)—Turmoil in the Middle East set a background for another week of advancing grain prices on the board of trade this week.

It wasn't a uniform advance. Rye ended lower. Gains in oats and new crop wheat were insignificant. But in old crop wheat, all corn and all soybean futures the upturn ran to several cents.

Prices often fluctuated with the character of the news from the Middle East. The United States presidential election was pretty much ignored. But routine grain news had some price making influence.

Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 higher, corn 2 to 3 cents higher, oats 1/4-1/2 higher, rye 1/4-1/2 higher, soybeans 2 to 5 1/2 higher and lard 33 to 52 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Main fear in the grain trade was that the situation in the Middle East might erupt into a major war.

Corn is the one grain definitely selling under the government price support level. For farmers who complied with acreage allocations or the soil bank the support level is $1.50, national average. This is estimated to be about $1.65 at Chicago.

Farmers who did not comply with allotments or soil bank provisions have their corn supported at $1.25, national average. This is estimated at about $1.40 at Chicago. It is believed, however, that most farmers are eligible for the higher supports.

As compared with these figures, December corn closed at $1.39 1/2. July corn is the highest of the corn futures, closing at $1.50. No. 2 yellow corn sold in the spot market at $1.36 1/2 to $1.37 1/2 Friday.

This contrasts quite sharply with other cereals. In wheat for example, the Chicago terminal support rate is $2.30. But the currently effective rate (terminal rate minus storage charges) is $2.23.

December wheat closed this week at $2.38 1/2 and March, the highest wheat future, at $2.42 1/2.

Soybeans also are well above the price support level, which is $2.15 national farm average. This is estimated to equal $2.35 at Chicago. November soybeans closed at $2.51 1/2 and May, the highest soybean future, at $2.60 1/2.

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Eisenhower landslide election day did not have as much effect on the bond markets as some had expected.

Corporates advanced briefly at the opening Wednesday then quickly eased on profit-taking and drifted lower for the rest of the week. U. S. government bonds closed fairly steady Wednesday except for the long range 3s which eased a fraction. Quite apparently, traders said, the election result had been discounted in advance.

All segments of the corporate market were either at or just a fraction above their lows for the year, as measured by the Associated Press index of 60 representative bonds. Japanese government and industrial dollar loans eased in a generally lower foreign scene.

Most government bond analysts, however, do not look for any advance in the price of government bonds for the rest of the year. The big question, in their opinion, is whether treasury securities will go lower or be able to maintain their current levels.

Pressures of "tight money" and renewed threats of inflation, spurred by the trouble at Suez, will keep the squeeze on all segments of the bond market, these sources say.

In addition, there is uncertainty over just what the federal reserve banks may do. The open market committee of the "fed" is to meet this Tuesday. It is rumored one of the things they will discuss is advisability of a further increase in the discount rate.

The visible supply of state and municipal offerings scheduled for public bidding over the next 30 days totals $197,713,086 compared with $185,345,649 a week ago. New issues up for public sale this coming week amount to $121,690,720 bonds and $115,009,000 short-term notes, compared with revised totals of $38,540,157 bonds and $25,585,000 notes for the past week, according to the daily bond buyer. The weekly average of long-term offerings now stands at $98,248,871.

Biggest issue on tap is Wednesday's auction of $19,960,000 Houston, Tex., general obligation bonds. That same day will see sale of 10 million of Cleveland, Ohio, waterworks revenue bonds and 10 million of Chicago board of education building bonds. On Tuesday, Newark, N. J., is to come to market with 12 1/2 million of various purpose bonds.

In the corporate field, Sinclair Oil Corp. on Thursday will offer stockholders $170,593,700 of 30-year subordinated convertible debentures on the basis of $100 face amount of debentures for each nine shares of common held. The issue will be underwritten by a group headed by Smith, Barney & Co.

Wednesday, Public Service Electric & Gas Co. will take bids on 50 million dollars of first mortgage bonds due 1986.

The 'Denton'... A Sleek Split Level House of Good Design

Builders Page Sat.

Rooms ..... Seven
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Eight

House and Garage 28,564 ft.

Dimensions ..... 27' x 59' 1/2"

The Home of the Week featured today is the "Denton," a seven-room split level house of high-style design. Measuring 27 feet by 59 1/2 feet, the structure shown here has no basement beneath the living room.

The living room in the "Denton" is located at the front of the house. The window wall across the front of the room is protected from direct rays of the sun by a wide overhang which will serve to keep the room cooler in summer.

The kitchen and its adjoining dining area are directly behind the living room. Combined, the kitchen and dining room are 22 feet long, equaling the long dimension of the living room. Both the living room and the kitchen-dining area are 13 feet wide.

Window Walls
Outdoor-indoor living is emphasized in this house and as in the living room, a window wall is utilized in the dining area.

The feature of both the dining area and the living room is the fireplace unit which is a three-sided structure opening into both rooms and the passage way between the rooms.

On the same level with the garage are a family room, lavatory and the furnace-utility room.

The family room, located at the front of the "Denton," is 16 1/2 feet long by 13 feet wide. Across the hall from this room, at the back of the house, are the lavatory and the eight-foot by nine-foot utility room.

Laundry Trouble? Install Cabinets

Laundry supplies often are the "orphans" when storage plans are made for a new or remodeled home. This is particularly true in basementless homes where laundry appliances are located on the main floor in the utility room or laundry area.

A neat solution to the problem is to install kitchen cabinets on the wall above the washer and dryer, space that often is unused. The laundry supplies then will be right at hand, and there may be overflow space for other household storage as well.

The laundry storage can be planned right along with the kitchen, or, if not considered until later, standard kitchen cabinets can be ordered from a catalogue and hung by the home owner himself. Knock-down wood cabinet kits, which are easy to assemble, may be the answer. The cabinets will be the same attractive and durable wood as the kitchen cabinets.

Stir Them Well

Paints and enamels are easier to work with when carefully and thoroughly stirred after the can is opened. Pour off most of the top oil into another can; stir the pigment until it is smooth; then gradually return the oil—stirring as you do it.

Pitch Drain Pipes

Underground lines from gutter downspouts to dry wells should be given a pitch of about one inch for every 20 inches of length to insure a proper flow of water into the dry well.

Keep Pliers Clean

Pliers will give better service if you keep the serrations at the tip of the jaws clean and sharp. Cleaning can be done with a fine wire brush. For sharpening, use a small file.

Dining to Drinking

Extra leaves of old dining room tables can often be converted into coffee or cocktail tables. Wooden legs with brass tips are easily attached.

Top Level Bedrooms

The three bedrooms, a dressing room and the bathroom are located on the highest level of the house.

The floor plan of this level allows the use of the bathroom from the master bedroom, a handy feature when the breadwinner in the family is trying to beat the kids to the washbowl in the morning.

The master bedroom in the "Denton" is 10 feet wide by 13 feet long. The partition between this room and the dressing room is a full closet-wall that could be fitted with sliding doors on both the bedroom side and the dressing room side to provide entry from either area.

Closet Wall

The dressing room features a second wall-size closet and also a built-in vanity table. The bathroom can be entered from the dressing area, as well as the main hall of this bedroom level.

The next largest bedroom is 13 feet long by 10 feet wide and the third bedroom is 10 feet by nine feet.

The second largest bedroom features a closet wall providing approximately 10 feet of storage space. In the third bedroom the closet is an oversize unit.

The "Denton" is designed to meet specifications of the VA and FHA and is sold with a money back guarantee for any reason the builder decides not to proceed with construction.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for the "Denton" and other houses in this series are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

Please enclose a stamped and self-addressed envelope with requests. Allow 10 days for a reply.

How to Remove Old Paint Coating From Furniture

When the old paint coating on a piece of furniture has become so thick or rough that you wish to remove it, you can do the job with paint-and-varnish remover.

Apply it to a small area at a time and let it stand until the old coating has softened—about 20 minutes. Then do your scraping with a putty knife and steel wool.

When all the old coating has been removed, wash the piece with mineral spirits or turpentine to take off any vestiges of waxes that may be left from the paint-and-varnish remover. Let the surface dry thoroughly, then apply your priming coat—and finally, your finishing coat.

Weakened Joints

Furniture glue is adversely affected by heat and moisture. To keep furniture from loosening at the joints, do not place near steam radiators or hot air outlets. Be sure furniture is not stored in damp attics or basements for long periods. Moisture also loosens veneer and inlay.

Don't Risk a Shock

When replacing any electric fixture, switch or outlet, play safe by not only pulling the main circuit switch but also removing the fuse to the circuit you are working on.

Awning Paint For Fiber Rugs

Awning paint is recommended for rejuvenating fiber rugs which are so popular for summer use but are prone to fade after a couple of seasons.

The suggestion comes from Rosa Starkey, extension specialist in home furnishings at the University of Massachusetts.

Awning paint is waterproof, wears well, sinks into the fiber without giving it a painted look, and dries with a dull surface, Miss Starkey says. There are also some special paints for fiber rugs or a good grade of flat alkylid paint may be used. Flat alkylid is an oil paint and may require a little thinning with turpentine to allow it to sink into and coat the fibers.

You'll need many layers of newspapers to protect the floor while you're applying paint to the rug, warns Miss Starkey. The paint soaks through newspaper, so check it occasionally. Select a stiff brush and fill it with paint, then wipe off the excess on the inside lip of the can. Brush the paint over the rug, getting it into all the crevices and holes. It's best to work on only a square-foot area at a time.

Keep Drains Sealed

Unused basement floor drains can allow sewer gas to enter your house if the water seal in the trap evaporates. Either pour water down the drain from time to time or remove the drain and seal up the pipe with a tight fitting plug.

Just Looking Around

A recent check by a Long Island, N. Y., builder showed that almost two-thirds of the visitors to his development were already home owners.

Front Doors Need Good Paint Jobs

One job your front door has is to provide a warm welcome.

It is a decorative focal point and should be inviting.

A good paint job will help to keep it that way.

Painting a paneled door is easy if you follow the procedure of the professional.

First comes preparation. Sand the surface smooth and dust off all loose particles. If the door has never been painted, apply an undercoat. If it has been painted only the bare spots will need such priming.

Using a 2 1/2 or 3-inch brush, start painting the molded edges of the top panel.

First paint the top edge, then the side and bottom edges. Paint from the corners, drawing the brush toward the center. Brush out excess paint. Drip marks can be unsightly.

After the molded edges of the top panel are covered paint the panel itself. If the panel has both a raised and sunken section, the sunken section should be painted first.

Use this routine for each panel, from the top down. After the panels are finished, do the crossrail at the top of the door. Next paint the stiles down to the next crossrail, and so on down to the bottom.

Panel doors are generally made of fine pine which has a particularly good bond for paint. They are now also chemically treated, which for all practical purposes eliminates sticking and warping. If paint is applied evenly on a dry clean surface, it will not bubble or crack.

Don't use a fast-drying paint on a large surface, such as a door. If the paint sets too fast, it's almost impossible to avoid unattractive overlapping.

If the door has been stained, put on a prime coat of aluminum paint to seal the stain. Otherwise, the stain may bleed through the paint.

Smooth Sawing

An application of paste wax to the surface of a hand saw lets it run more easily in its own kerf, and materially reduces the effort needed to operate it. This is particularly effective if the lumber happens to be a little wet.

Tight Grip Tiring

Very often the reason your hands become so tired while painting is that you hold the paint brush too tightly. You'll find if you just hold it with average pressure by your hand you'll not only get less tired but do a better job.

Picking Nail Length

Many do-it-yourself enthusiasts use nails that are too short for the job. The result is a weak fastening. The general rule of thumb is to use a nail three times as long as the thickness of the board being nailed.

Can Paint Linoleum

Worn-looking linoleum can be painted with regular floor enamel. Make sure the linoleum is free of wax and dirt. It can be cleaned with fine steel wool moistened in turpentine.

Paint for Awnings

Canvas awnings that have faded can be painted using a special canvas paint. It's best if you stick to solid colors instead of stripes.

Paint Brings Out Good Features

Good paint styling is the technique of using paint intelligently to bring out the good features of a building and to minimize those features that are less desirable, thus giving you the most out of the design.

Here are a few basic rules, worked out by a trade publication for home builders:

To emphasize a good feature, surround it with a different color.

To minimize a bad feature, surround it with a matching color.

Warm colors—red-violet, red, red-orange, orange and yellow-orange—are "advancing" colors and seem to bring things nearer. Cool colors—yellow-green, blue-green, blue and blue-violet—are "receding" colors and seem to push things farther away. Dark colors absorb light and make objects seem smaller, but closer. They tend to advance. The brighter in color an area is, the larger it seems. The "largest" color is yellow, followed by red, green, blue and black.

Equal or approximately equal areas of contrasting colors are not pleasing.

Nails for Wallboard

New nails with barbed rings have been developed for installing gypsum wallboard panels. These nails have much greater holding power and will not have a tendency to pop out when you hammer on the other side of a wall. They drive readily and their heads can be concealed as completely with tape and wallboard cement as any other nail. Their value is an insurance of decoration, whether paint or wallpaper.

Loose Knobs

Loose knobs and drawer pulls can often be tightened by removing the screw and placing a metal washer under the head to keep it from pulling through the wood. Where wooden knobs are held by wood screws, remove the knob, fill the screw hole with plastic wood and replace before the filler hardens.

Some Enamels Flat

Enamel does not have to result in a glossy surface. Some enamels dry to a flat or egg-shell finish. Enamel is a type of paint with pigments that provide considerable hiding power and dry to a smooth, relatively hard solid.

Use Piece of Pipe For Clothespole

If the wooden clothes poles in long closets creak and groan, or sag and threaten to break when a new load of hangered clothes is added, replace them with pipe. Ordinary one-inch-diameter iron pipe will do the job and will have the strength to hold up under heavy loads. If painting is planned, use black iron. Galvanized pipe should be used if the metal is to be left unprotected.

Wire Brush Handy When Filing Metal

When filing metal, be sure to do all of the cutting with the forward motion of the file. If heavy pressure is used on the back stroke it will close the file grooves by bending over the undercuts. To clean a file or rasp, keep a file card (a stiff metal, brush-like tool) and a wire brush handy.

Use the file card to clean the harder deposits, the wire brush for the remainder. When filing paint or rasping soft wood, use the wire brush often to prevent the grooves and teeth from becoming clogged and riding over the work. Brush a little oil over the file faces to prevent rust after use. Rust dulls a file more than heavy filing.

Check Heat Controls

Heating plant controls should be checked at least once a year to make sure they are in good operating condition. Defective controls should be replaced immediately.

Repairing Concrete

In making repairs on a concrete floor, walk or drive, allow the patch to extend about 1/2-inch higher than the original surface. Just before the concrete sets, smooth it down flush with the surrounding surface.

Spray Prevents Skids

An easy way to keep rugs and carpets from slipping is to coat the underside with a special non-skid adhesive that comes in a spray bomb. And speaking of spray bombs, it's possible to get paint removers in this form now.

Shellac Ruins Nylon

Don't use paint brushes with nylon bristles with shellac. The alcohol in the shellac will soften the bristles.

BUILDERS BRIEFS

Sealer Needed

Cork floor tiles, since they are porous, need a floor sealer to protect them from stains, scratches and ground-in grime.

More Flagstone Floors

Flagstone flooring for various rooms in new country homes is growing in popularity.

Choice of Sizes

Insulating, double-paneled glass is available in more than 90 standard sizes. It is used in all types of sash, including double hung, casement and awning ventilators.

Easy Sanding

An easy way to sand rounded furniture legs and dowels is to cut your sandpaper into thin long strips and then pull it back and forth over the surface.

Check Heating Controls

Heating plant controls should be checked at least once a year to make sure they are in good operating condition. Defective controls should be replaced immediately.

Patching Pipes

Holes and cracks in insulation over pipes and boilers can be patched with a little asbestos cement. Wet down the edge of the opening before applying the patch.

Fabrics Block Vapor

Plastic-coated wall fabrics are vapor barriers and make good finishes for kitchen and bathroom walls.

Remove Loose Paint

Before repainting a radiator, remove all loose, cracked and falling paint. The best way to do this is with a paste type of paint remover.

Keep Ducts Shining

If you have bright uninsulated aluminum warm air ducts in your basement, don't cover them with asbestos paper insulation. Do, however, keep them clean for when the metal becomes dulled from dust and dirt it loses its value as insulation.

Take It Easy

When you have several layers of wallpaper to remove, don't try to get them off all at once. Wet down the first layer, take this off and then wet down the next layer.

Will Stand Some Shade

If roses have full morning sun they can be in partial shade in the afternoon.

Kitchen Colors

For a long time, the popular kitchen colors have been pastel yellows, greens and blues. In the last several months, however, the earth tones of brown, sand, and shades of red have been coming up fast.

For Stencils Only

A brush is made especially for the application of stencils.

Mortgage Statistics

* United States farm mortgage debt at a total of $8,200,000,000 has doubled since 1945 while mortgage debts on homes in towns and cities has increased 4 1/2 times.

Smart Plaque For Mounting Your Snapshots

Favorite snapshots, such as choice views from a vacation trip, make fine pictures to hang on the wall when enlarged and attractively mounted. Color enlargements are especially good.

A smart plaque can be made quickly by mounting such pictures on pieces of predecorated hardboard which has a plastic finish. This wall and ceiling paneling can be had in various authentic wood grain patterns, marble patterns or solid colors. After sawing pieces to suit, smooth the edges and apply adhesive type hangers on the back. No further finishing is needed, unless you want to wax or paint the edges. Rubber cement will keep the photo flat and without bulges. It also makes it easy to change pictures.

Equal Temperature

The most equal temperature in the world is claimed for the Caribbean Sea where the average is 80 degrees. The variation between summer and winter is 6 degrees.

Then Wear It Again?

A man's sock makes a good applicator for waxing a floor. Fill the sock with paste wax, then run it lightly over the floor. The light pressure is sufficient to release enough wax for an even job.

Protect Garden Hose

A garden hose will last longer if the home-owner remembers to store it out of the sun and to wipe it free of oil.

Keep It Blunt

The rule to follow when you sharpen a screwdriver is to keep the point blunt. If you sharpen it the way you would a knife, the edge will ruin the heads of the screws and the point won't last long.

Way to Add Space

One way to expand a home for a space-hungry family without wrecking the budget is to enclose a porch. Plan the enclosure to fit the existing structure as closely and simply as possible, thus saving on labor costs.

Goodbye, Milk Man

Dangerous Makeshift

Don't rely on friction tape to secure split handles of tools. Refit or replace loose or split handles. Keep the handles secure and smooth.

Prefer Own Choices

Contrary to popular belief, women are seldom impressed by freshly painted or papered walls in a house that's up for sale. They prefer to pick their own patterns and colors when they move in.

Protecting Tools

A good way to store tools in a damp location so they won't rust is to give them a thin coat of oil and then wrap them in aluminum foil.

Brads for Plywood

In nailing quarter-inch plywood to framing members, use a brad an inch and a quarter long.

Placing Sockets

Wall sockets should be placed between 12 and 18 inches above the floor, except in kitchen, laundry, bathroom and garage, where they should be 48 inches above the floor.

Don't Waste Oil

If the ignition system of your burner isn't working fast, so as to ignite the oil quickly, you are wasting oil.

Attorney Advises Board Complied With Voting Law

The board of inspectors of the Fourth Election District, town of New Paltz, simply complied with the law in handling the registration of 15 residents of the County Home, New Paltz, according to a letter to The Freeman from Alfred Hafke, board attorney.

Mr. Hafke said he felt an account of the matter in The Freeman November 5 created an erroneous impression of the board's action.

He explained that in refusing to place the 15 names on the voting register the board was complying with Sect. 151 of the Election Law which requires that a person in a welfare institution, asylum or other institution wholly or partly supported at public expense or by charity must file with the board "a written statement showing where he actually resides and where he claims to be legally domiciled, his business or occupation, his business address, and to which class he claims to belong."

According to Mr. Hafke, this statement was not filed with the board. Instead, the 15 persons made an application to compel the board of inspectors to register them.

The position of the board in refusing to register the 15 was "absolutely correct and it was concurred in by all members who belonged equally to both major parties. No partisan politics were involved. No member of the board had any desire to prevent any person from registering who was entitled to register."

Mr. Hafke pointed out that the order by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn November 5 required the 15 petitioners to "do exactly what the board had requested them to do in the first place, and it did not add their names to the 'voting record,' as your account states."

Mr. Hafke wrote that "in all fairness to these 15 persons, they contended, by their attorney, that the board of inspectors, or a member thereof, had provided them with a suggested form of statement to be filed, which statement contained matters not required by Section 151, and they therefore saw no use in attempting to file any other form of statement. None of the attorneys interested in the application saw this suggested statement and I do not know whether or not this contention is true. If true, it was unfortunate, but since these persons had legal counsel, they should have known that they were required to make only the statement set forth in Section 151. There was no necessity for such a 'tempest in a teapot.'

"One thing more. Persons in such an institution as the County Home in New Paltz, coming originally from a town other than New Paltz, have a right to vote and they can vote by absentee ballot, in the town in which they resided when they entered the County Home. It is my personal opinion that this is where they should vote, since these towns are paying for their care."

Introducing New U.S. Senators

Joseph S. Clark

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania's new senator, Democrat Joseph S. Clark, took up politics in earnest when, in his wards, he found that the practice of law "had no spiritual reward."

A one-time Republican, he is described by close associates as a man with a passion for good government.

Clark, himself, says that his goal is primer simple—"Service in government."

Crested Like Tide

With an election campaign text no more complex than that, the 55-year-old Clark defeated Republican Sen. James H. Duff, a veteran in politics endorsed by President Eisenhower. Alone among the Democratic statewide candidates in Pennsylvania, Clark created the tide of Eisenhower popularity. To note that he was roundly helped by ticket-splitting Republicans whose feelings toward Duff had cooled, certainly distracts in no way from Clark's own personal appeal.

During the campaign Duff made much of Clark's patrician upbringing, asserting that the Democratic candidate was a rich man pretending that his heart bled for the poor. For all his identification as a member of a well-to-do family, Clark drew much of his strength from labor and from regions, such as the hard coal fields, labelled depressed areas.

Clark did not attract national attention until 1951, when he became the first Democratic mayor of Philadelphia in 68 years.

At Odds With Bosses

Then it was that he came into focus as a nervous, tireless type, with a zeal for civic reform and a sense of humor and an idiomatic philosophy which he fit in very well with his Harvard schooling. He talked integrity in public office, made the city hall slogan, "Good Government Is the Best Politics," came to grips with party bosses when he felt they were trying to compromise principle.

Behind the high reputation that Clark earned in four years as mayor were many less rewarding years on lower levels of political activity. He returned from World War 2 service in India, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, and within a few years was in the thick of a movement to revitalize and reshape the city government. In 1928 he left the Republican party, because, as he said later, "it was better to be a right-wing New Dealer than a left wing conservative."

Clark's fight against what was generally regarded as a malodorous Republican rule rose to a climax from 1947 to 1951. In 1947 he backed Richardson Dilworth for mayor, a job Dilworth now holds. Dilworth lost but Clark had shaken his opponents. In 1949 Clark ran for city controller, Dilworth for city treasurer, and won with thumping majorities.

Apart from his determined effort, in and out of office, to "get the people of Philadelphia aroused," Clark's political performance has included a stint as deputy attorney general of the state. That was in the mid-30's.

Effective Speaker

As might be expected of a top trial lawyer, Clark is an effective public speaker, if not a resounding orator. Concerning the law, he has said: "It was like a chess game. Sure, the challenge was there, but the kick wasn't."

Tall and thin, he was made for the easy, casual, tweedy clothes he prefers, even on the job. Some people consider him an odd mixture of gaiety and grim intensity.

The Clarks have a son and a daughter.

Many of his adherents believe Clark will serve so ably in the Senate that Democratic policymakers in 1960 may think of him as a likely choice, at least for the vice presidency.

The state of Tennessee derives its name from the Cherokee Indian village of Tanasi.

Ceremony to Honor Life and Star Scouts

Saugerties, Nov. 9—A special ceremony honoring Scouts advancing to Life and Star rank will feature the program of the Court of Recognition to be conducted by Saugerties District, Boy Scouts of America Tuesday at 7:45 p. m. in Saugerties Municipal Auditorium.

District Commissioner William C. Plimley will be in charge of the ceremony. The opening ceremony and presentation of the colors will be conducted by Organization and Extension Chairman Orville Whitaker. Representatives of all Scouting units in the district will participate. The Invocation will be offered by the Rev. Charles P. Burke, pastor of St. Mary's Church and the welcome will be extended by District Chairman William Bachelor. Henry Hansen, district advancement chairman will serve as master of ceremonies.

Presentation of awards for the various ranks in Scouting will be made by the following district officials: Cub advancement, Raymond S. Quackenbush, leadership training chairman; Tenderfoot, Robert P. Schron, deputy vice-chairman; Second Class, Raymond Ruby, vice-chairman; First Class, Frank Myers, neighborhood commissioner; Merit Badges, William Casal, district representative and Star and Life awards, District Commissioner Plimley.

A prominent speaker of the area will address the gathering of Scouts, parents, leaders, friends and interested citizens of the community.

District officials making the award presentations will give a brief outline of the importance of each of the advances.

Lutherans Initiate Clothing Collection

Saugerties, Nov. 9—Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Saugerties will join with more than 11,000 congregations of the National Lutheran Council participating in the 1956 Lutheran World Action Relief Thanksgiving clothing appeal because clothing is still "coveted and needed in many lands," according to an announcement made today by the Rev. Richard I. Crossland, pastor of the local congregation.

The clothing is given out regardless of race, color or creed to people throughout the world. There is a great need at the present time in Korea, Formosa, Hong Kong, Jordan, Syria, Yugoslavia, Austria and Germany. Among the items sought are suits, overcoats, trousers, overalls, dresses, skirts, caps, gloves, mittens, sweaters, robes, mufflers, underwear, stockings, shoes, blankets, bedding, layettes, infant's wear, and cloth remnants for sewing.

The local congregation will send the clothing, right after Thanksgiving to the Lutheran World Relief warehouse in Phillipsburg, N. J. where it is processed, sorted and prepared for shipment overseas.

Clothing may be brought any day to the church, which is open daily for prayer and meditation from 8:30 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Brotherhood Lists

Final Plans for Supper

Saugerties, Nov. 9—At the monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Saugerties, final plans were made for the fresh roast ham supper November 15 at the church social room.

Philip Breithaupt, president of the Brotherhood reported that the sale of the tickets was progressing satisfactorily and the men will be ready to serve at least 300 persons.

There will be servings at 5, 6 and 7 p. m. Anyone desiring to make reservations may call Mr. Breithaupt.

All proceeds from the dinner will go to the Anna and Sophie Heise Memorial Organ Fund of the church. The fund now totals nearly $7,000 and the congregation has contracted for a new two-manual pipe organ to be installed late in 1957 by the M. P. Moller, Co. of Hagerstown, Md., at a cost of about $8,000.

Activities Scheduled

Saugerties, Nov. 9—The Lutheran League of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp will meet in West Camp parish hall Sunday at 6 p. m.

All teenagers who have been confirmed are eligible to join at this meeting and participate in the re-organization of the youth group, according to the Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith, pastor.

The regular monthly meeting of Cementon Auxiliary of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp will be held Thursday in the parish hall.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at 12 noon prior to the meeting.

The planning committee of Cub Scout Pack 32, Atonement Lutheran Church will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the home of District Commissioner William C. Plimley, Clermont street.

Town Notes

Saugerties, Nov. 9 — William C. Cotton of Blue Mountain road, town assessor is in Benedictine Hospital. He was admitted Wednesday.

Herschell B. Patterson, vice-president of Malden-West Camp Fire Company returned to his home in West Camp following a stay at Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Alvah Linzey of Evesport is in Benedictine Hospital following a highway accident at Malden-on-Hudson last week.

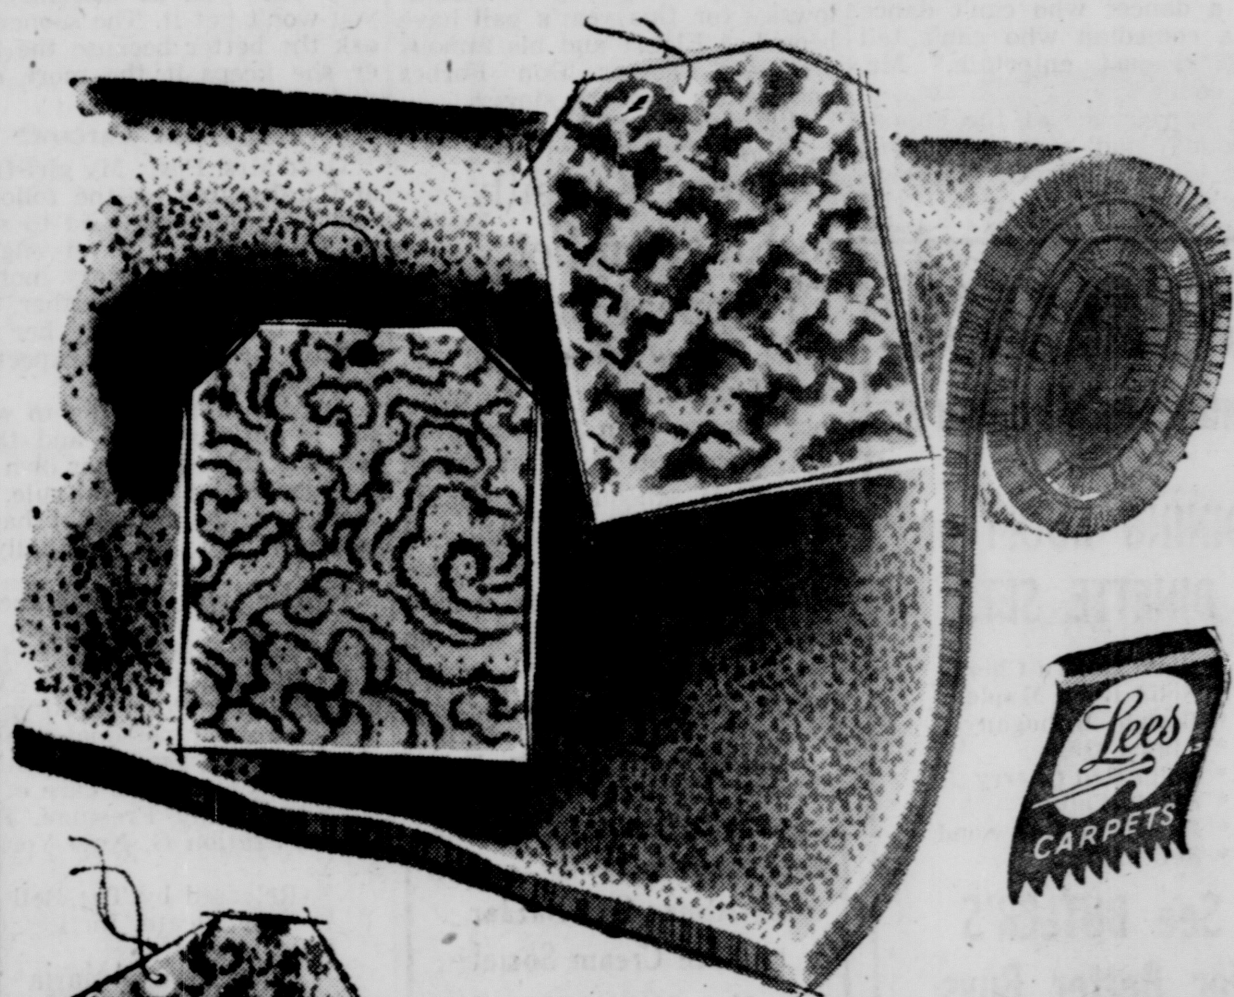

Frank Sloboda of Evesport road is still at Benedictine Hospital. He is expected to go to Albany Hospital this weekend for further treatment.

'Jack and Beanstalk' Cast Member Signed For Ahavath Israel Thanksgiving Eve Ball

A new "find" in the entertainment field who will appear on Producer's Showcase "Jack and the Beanstalk" over NBC-TV Monday night, will be one of the headliners at the 20th annual stage show and ball sponsored by Congregation Ahavath Israel Wednesday night, Nov. 21, Thanksgiving Eve, at municipal auditorium.

He is Joel Grey, who describes himself as a singer who can't sing, a dancer who can't dance, and a comedian who can't tell jokes. "I just entertain," Mr. Grey confides.

His appearance at the annual pre-holiday ball was announced today by Herman G. Rafalowsky, honorary chairman, who again is arranging the full entertainment bill for this year's show and Benjamin Schecter, chairman of the ball.

The Ahavath Israel ball chairman, who recently saw young Grey in action in New York city said, "he's one of the real up and coming stars and already has been compared favorably with Danny Kaye."

Joel Grey's springboard to fame was the sensational date he had at the Copacabana in New York in an audition engagement. The youngster apparently did alright because the next day he was rushed to the Chez Paree in Chicago for a two-week job and then back into the Copa a few weeks later. Since then he has made a complete swing around the top-notch night clubs of the nation.

On television he has appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show, the Eddie Cantor Show and NBC-TV's All Star Revue. He recently was signed by ABC-TV to headline his own show.

Besides his appearance with the Producer's Showcase offering Monday night, young Grey also will be presented on Steve Allen's Sunday night show in the "Jack and the Beanstalk" cast.

Already booked by Mr. Rafalowsky for this year's ball have been Les Elgart and his famous orchestra, singer Don Forbes and Felicia Sanders, singer.

Other acts will be announced.

Organist Recently In Kingston Set To Appear on TV

Richard Ellsasser, noted organist, who played for an audience of more than 300 here Sunday, Nov. 4 at the Old Dutch Church, is scheduled to appear on NBC television, according to a report by Mrs. Willard Burke, minister of music at the church.

Mr. Ellsasser will be seen on the "Dave Garraway Show" on Monday in some part of the program which is scheduled from 7 a. m. to 9 a. m., Mrs. Burke told The Freeman.

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

ARE AUNT AND UNCLE TOO STRICT?

"I am a twenty-three-year-old college student and am in love with a young man who goes to the same college. He shares an apartment with two other friends. I have been going to his apartment to parties, and on occasion, to dinner. Even though I never go there alone, my aunt and uncle, with whom I live, object to this as they do not think it proper for young people to be left alone in an apartment, unchaperoned. I cannot see any harm in it as long as there are others present. Will you please give your opinion?"

I definitely agree with you.

When Picture Is Loaned

Dear Mrs. Post: Some time ago I gave a friend of mine a lovely picture inasmuch as I could not find any space to hang it in our very small apartment, and rather than store it away, I said she could use it. I did not, however, mean for her to keep it. Now we are in a large house and I could use the picture very nicely. This friend has made no offer to return it to me. Would it be proper to ask her for it? Please let me hear from you on this matter.

Answer: It is obviously necessary that you do ask for it or you won't get it. The sooner you ask the better because the longer she keeps it the more she'll regard it as her own.

Who Pays Carfare?

Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend and I disagree on the following and we would like you to settle it. In the case of an engaged couple who meet every morning to go to business together, is it up to the girl to pay her own carfare, or should she expect her fiancé to do so?

Answer: When going to work, she is not his guest and therefore she should pay her own way—at least as a general rule. (On some occasions he might happen to pay it, but not habitually.)

Wedding details from the engagement to the ceremony are listed in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 501, "The Etiquette of Weddings." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 9, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Court Santa Maria To Attend Mass

At a meeting of Court Santa Maria 164, Catholic Daughters of America, it was announced that a Mass for all deceased members will be held at St. Joseph's Church, Tuesday at 9 a. m.

It was also reported at the meeting that Miss Helen Barry will be chairman for the 45th annual banquet to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Committee chairmen announced for the Christmas party scheduled for December 19 include Mrs. Nelson Niles, entertainment, Miss Helen Van Stenberg and Mrs. Michael Mattia, covered dish supper, Miss Anna Schneider and Miss Alfreda Schneider, Christmas tree and gifts.

Members are requested to bring a gift for the tree and secret pals.

Hostesses for the evening were Miss Helen Van Stenberg, Mrs. Helen Avnet, Mrs. Nellie Nolan, Miss Margaret Burns and Mrs. Harry Wade.

Joseph Murphy of 110 South Main street, will attend the New York-New England regional meeting of managers of the Bartlett Tree Experts at Stamford, Conn., Monday. Mr. Murphy represents the firm in the Kingston area.

Latter-Day Saints Church Tells of Elder's Transfer

ELDER BRUCE WIDMER

As part of the missionary system of the Mormon LDS Church Elder Bruce Widmer of Geneva, Idaho has been transferred to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Kingston.

He replaces Elder Darrell W. Davis transferred to Long Island. Elder Widmer, who has spent two months in Red Bank, N. J. will be working with Elder John E. Kagle as representative of the church in this area.

Elder Widmer upon returning home plans to attend Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah to complete his education.

Elder Kagle and Elder Widmer are residing at 303 Foxhall avenue. Service of the local church are held Sunday at 10 a. m. and 11 a. m. in the YMCA building, Broadway and Pine Grove avenue.

At the present time the eastern states mission has 10 church buildings under construction, eight more are planned, including the Kingston Chapel.

Baptist Canvass Workers Will Be Dedicated Sunday

A special service of dedication for all workers participating in the every member canvass drive will be held during the 11 a. m. worship hour Sunday at the First Baptist Church, corner of Albany avenue at Broadway.

Although a section of the drive already has started, tomorrow's dedication will officially launch the 1956 campaign. Several preliminary meetings have been held relative to the goals for the 1957 program including training sessions for workers actually conducting the drive.

During Sunday's special service the Rev. Harold J. Stephanz, pastor, will preach the sermon on the topic "Christ's Crusaders." The regular sermon for children also will be presented.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the every member canvass drive will get underway with all workers reporting to the church at that time.

The first report meeting of the canvass is scheduled for Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the church. During Sunday's evening service at 7:30 o'clock the Rev. Mr. Stephanz will preach on the topic "The Adventurous Life."

Special music will be offered by Henry Hopper, Mrs. Harold J. Stephanz, Mrs. Harry Legg and J. Anthony Hummel.

Area Events Scheduled

(Notices of meetings, suppers and other events to be listed in this column should be sent to the City Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman, as far in advance as possible.)

Senior Play

Members of the senior play cast under the direction of Miss Madeleine Tarrant, director of speech and dramatics at Kingston High School are now engaged in their final week of rehearsals in preparation for the presentation of "Arsenic and Old Lace." The mystery comedy will be presented at the high school auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The 14 members of this year's cast include Mary Whitford, Lois Mitchell, Nancy Eckart, Sylvester Pollet, Richard Di Donna, Kenneth Osterhout, Robert C. Fisher, Edward Zwick, David Brown, Charles Bell, Louis Levy, Thomas Rowland, Benny Back and James Flynn.

All members of the cast are now busy disposing of tickets which may be exchanged for reserved seats for any of the three nights on Tuesday and Wednesday at the high school.

Homeroom representatives are assisting Vice-Principal J. Watson Bailey while Cornelius Freer is acting as business manager of the play. Those assisting him include Richard Diers, Mary Ann Latz, Laura Baroncelli, Edward Leware, Kenneth Osterhout, Carolee Leware, Linda Rider, Vera Rimm, Edward Zwick, Charles Spader, Barbara De Witt and William Baldinger.

Another group whose work is important in arranging the production is the properties committee. This committee is headed by Miss Judy Lacey with Linda Rider, Karen Byrne, and Mimi Basch as her assistants. Jacqueline Post, Patricia Quick and Nancy Larsen are the play prompters. The make-up committee is composed of James Flynn, Sally Kuehn, Helen Martini, Joan Peters, Kathi Haggerty and Katherine Wright.

Debaters Hold Panel

More than 50 interested students attended the panel discussion sponsored by the Webster-Hayne Debating Club on the question of whether or not the vote should be granted to 18 year olds. John Snyder, club president, acted as moderator. The panel was composed of Dr. Earl Soper, superintendent of schools; Howard St. John, district attorney and the Rev. Arthur Oudemool, pastor of the First Dutch Reformed Church. At the close of the discussion a straw vote of the audience showed a large majority in favor of lowering the voting age.

DUSO Changed to RUSO

At a recent meeting of Student Council representatives from Dutchess, Rockland, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties held at Roscoe Central School, announcement was made Dutchess county had withdrawn from the organization, which as far as Student Council organizations are concerned will now be RUSO. Those attending from the local high school student government were Libby Lee, Bruce Miller, Patricia Van Kleek, Alan Simmons, Betsy Milliken and Edward Zwick.

Senior Prom

The senior prom, one of seniors' most exciting and memorable social events is to be held Thanksgiving night, Nov. 26 from 9 to 12 p. m. at Kate Walton Field House. At this time Kingston hopes to celebrate its victory over Newburgh in the Turkey-Day classic and the close of an undefeated season in football.

The chairman of this year's senior prom is Mary Ellen Deckert, co-chairman, Pat Van Dues-

Typists chosen are Sally Kuehn, Dorothy Lewis, Linda Merritt, Linda Rider, Vivian Van Vorst and Sheila Duffy. Wanda Roosa is the new calendar editor and her advisor is Mrs. Deyo.

Kaari Ilves and Mimi Basch will be social editors with Mrs. Partlan as advisor. The organization editors are Gertrude Altneder and Sheila Duffy with Mrs. Partlan as advisor.

Government Conference

November 4 all the boys and girls clubs in the Mid-Hudson area held a conference in the Newburgh YMCA where they presented various bills pertaining to government.

The boys "B"—Alpha Hi-Y Club presented a bill on amending the State Labor Law in relation to paragraph 130. The Kappa Omicron presented a bill on the subject, "People in the Armed Forces should be allowed to vote at 18." If a bill is passed in a committee room, it is then presented out on the floor of the assembly. If the bill is passed on the floor of the assembly it will be presented to the State Legislature where if passed, it will become a law. Boys sponsor is Howie Marcou and the girls sponsor is Pat Muller.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL BRINGING IN ST. FRANCIS

In his autobiography entitled, "The Unexpected Years," A. E. Houseman tells about a large pear tree in his garden which bore luscious fruit. It stood near the border of his lot and some of the branches extended over a none-too-friendly neighbor's soil. The law said that all of the pears belonged to the man who owned the tree; no matter how much it protruded across the line. But the neighbor did not feel that way about it.

One morning before the pears were ripe this neighbor arose early and picked not only all of the pears that hung on his side but also all he could reach on the whole tree. And, to add insult to injury, he parked the pears to ripen in a window facing south which was in plain view of the Houseman household. Then and there Houseman resolved that it would not happen again.

The next year, as harvest time approached, Houseman made sure he arose early enough each morning so that his greedy neighbor would not have both gardens to himself. Then one day, while the neighbor was at work, he picked every pear on the tree except two which no amount of stretching could possibly reach. When the man came home that night Houseman heard him growling to himself at the sight of the stripped tree. That was the moment for which he had waited.

That night, says Houseman, "I brought in St. Francis. I admit that I did so with no real charity of heart, but merely experimentally, impulsively, curiously, to see how it would work. I got a large basket, and filled it with pears—his rightful share—and sent it around with a polite note asking him to accept them from the tree which 'encroached upon his garden.' It did the trick," says Houseman. "A grateful message of thanks came back, and if there was anything in his garden which we would like to have, would we say so. Thenceforth, for the rest of our stay, our crop of pears was safe."

This problem of the pears is a miniature of the gravest problems that beset our world. Both men wanted the pears. One had a legal right to all of them; and the other thought he had a right at least to part of them, and was determined to get all he could—even if he had to do a little stealing. No stubborn standing up for "rights" would ever have resolved the difficulty. A little gracious neighborliness saved the day.

When will we ever learn that the best way to win is not always to take an unbending stand for our "rights"? Sometimes the gracious surrender of our rights, as such, wins for us a far more notable victory than an adamant stand for them ever could provide.

Eligible for Compensation

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10 (AP)—A court has ruled that Attorney John E. Egan is eligible for workmen's compensation for injuries he suffered while counsel to a legislative committee. The appellate division rejected unanimously yesterday a state appeal from a $250 award by the workmen's compensation board. Egan said in his compensation claim that he had been injured Feb. 18, 1953, in an automobile crash near Coxsack. He said he had been driving to Albany from Kingston, where he resides, on business for the old joint legislative committee on horse racing.

Two Ask Recount

Providence, R. I., Nov. 10 (AP)—Democratic Gov. Dennis J. Roberts and his Republican opponent, Christopher Del Sesto, have asked for a recount of voting machine ballots cast in their race for the governorship in Tuesday's election. The race is still undecided. The Providence Journal said unofficial returns showed Del Sesto trailing by 190 votes with more than 11,000 absentee ballots yet to be counted.

Holy Name Group To Hold Meeting With Breakfast

St. Joseph's Holy Name Society will inaugurate a new custom of combining the monthly meeting with a breakfast on the regular Communion Sunday. Sunday morning after the Mass and Communion at 8 o'clock the members of the Society as well as those desiring to join are asked to attend the meeting and to enjoy a breakfast in the school basement.

At a committee meeting Thursday night it was decided that combining the two, communion and meeting would be more convenient to the men and would spur attendance at the monthly meetings of the Society. The meeting and the coffee and rolls should be finished within an hour and the committee feels it will give an opportunity for newcomers of the parish to become acquainted with each other. The chairman of the breakfast is Edward Gardner. Serving with him is Nicholas Reis Jr., William Phillips and Lawrence Doyle.

Bowl Game Bids Big Prizes In Six Gridiron Contests

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
College football went a-bowling today in a half dozen games that should set up an early line on the New Year's Day classics. Expenses-paid winter tours to the Rose, Orange, Sugar and Cotton Bowls were among the loot as Georgia Tech and Tennessee tangled in a battle of unbeaten, Minnesota made its pitch against Iowa, Stanford played Oregon State, Colorado met Missouri, Maryland confronted Clemson and Texas A&M had it out with Southern Methodist.

Oklahoma, Michigan State and Ohio State, barred from bowl play, had "nothing" more of an incentive than national rankings and conference titles in their games. The top-ranked Sooners, of course, also had that elastic winning record ready to be stretched to 37 games in a meeting with Iowa State. Michigan State met Purdue and Ohio State played Indiana.

Syracuse Eyes Bowl
The other three members of the top 10 in this week's Associated Press poll have a mixed diet. Syracuse, No. 9, carried hopes of a bowl bid (perhaps the Gator) against Holy Cross. Michigan, played Illinois and hoped to stay in position for the Big Ten's Rose Bowl assignment should Iowa or Minnesota falter. Miami (Fla.), No. 8, was idle.

George Washington got the weekend started with a 32-6 victory over Richmond. The Colonials, knocked out of the top 20 by West Virginia last week, led 13-0 at the half on touchdowns by fullback Bo Austin.

The Sugar Bowl—That New Orleans extravaganza which finds itself virtually limited to southern teams by Louisiana's segregation law—had a scout at the Atlanta for the Tech-Tennessee tussle. Both winner and loser, however, probably can feel safe about looking forward to a Bowl date, with the Cotton Bowl beckoning along with the Sugar.

Conference Crown
Also at stake in the battle between Tech's second-ranked Wrecks and the third-ranked Vols was the Southeastern Conference crown. And a great day might even put the winner with in easy halting distance of Oklahoma atop the national rankings. Minnesota, No. 6, and Iowa, No. 15, belted each other in the TV game of the day as each tries to nail an initial trip to the Rose Bowl. The Gophers were unbeaten but once tied; Iowa 3-1. Their records likely will leave the Big Ten title to Ohio State—trying for an unprecedented "triple"—but the Buckeyes are banned from the Bowl by probation. (Michigan State can't repeat because of a league ban).

Oregon State, No. 14, and unranked Stanford went at it to gain a foothold as the leading candidate for the Pacific Coast Conference's berth in the Rose Bowl.

Orange Bowl Opening
Colorado could wrap up second place in the Big 7 and gain the Orange Bowl berth (left vacant by Oklahoma which can't repeat) by beating Missouri. But the Tigers could gain hope, too, with a victory. Clemson (No. 11) could bag the Atlantic Coast Conference reservation in the Orange Bowl by defeating Maryland, thus remaining unbeaten.

Texas A&M could take a good grip on the Southwest Conference title by beating SMU, but the Aggies need a pardon from the NCAA next week to make it as the host team in the Cotton Bowl. An SMU victory would open the title race to the Mustangs, Rice and defending champ Texas Christian as well as A&M. One of the contenders also probably can count on a Sugar Bowl date.

Rice was at Arkansas and TCU played Texas Tech. Elsewhere, Navy played at Duke in a battle of first-rate second-raters. Florida laid its slim Southeastern Conference hopes on the line against Georgia; Pittsburgh tries to push yet another burr under Notre Dame's collar. And Southern Cal and UCLA, barred from the Rose Bowl, met California and Washington, respectively.

In the East, Princeton hauled out its unbeaten-untied record against Harvard while Yale, tied for the Ivy League lead with the Tigers, met Penn.

Unbeaten and untied Wyoming visited Montana, Arizona State, the only other "major" all-winner, played Texas Western.

Always loosen a meat loaf from the sides of the pan before turning out.

Hodges, Zimmer HRs Pace Dodger Romp, 8-2

Tokyo, Nov. 10 (AP)—First baseman Gil Hodges smashed two home runs and second baseman Don Zimmer one today as the Brooklyn Dodgers overpowered the Japan All-Stars 8-2. The crowd of 30,000 included Crown Prince Akihito and his sister, Princess Suga.

The victory made it 12 wins against four losses, with one tie, for the Dodgers on their exhibition tour of Japan.

Royals Beat Warriors as Green Stars

By The Associated Press
Silvino Green of the youthful Rochester Royals is making a strong early bid for Rookie of the Year honors in the National Basketball Assn.

Green popped in 20 points last night as he teamed with Maurice Stokes, last year's top rookie, and Dick Ricketts to knock over the Philadelphia Warriors, 95-93, in the only league game played last night.

Controlled Backboards
Ricketts and Stokes controlled both backboards for the Royals and hit for 18 and 21 points respectively. It was their single free throws late in the game which provided the final margin of victory.

The Rochester team is the youngest in the league with Green, former Duquesne star, and four second year men—Stokes, Ricketts, Richie Regan and Jack Twyman, a 1,000-point man for the Royals in his freshman season last year.

Green leads all rookies in scoring with 70 points. He and Regan are the top men in the league in assists.

Arizin Leads Rally
Paul Arizin, high scorer of the Warriors, led a rally that brought the losers within two points with 20 seconds left. Arizin notched three baskets in a row after his team fell behind, 94-87, but Philadelphia lost the ball before getting off a last shot, jumpin' Paul wound up with 25 points, followed by Neil Johnston, who made six of his first seven shots and finished with 20.

The defeat put Philadelphia deeper in the Eastern Division cellar. The defending champions have now dropped 3 out of 4 as coach Eddie Gottlieb searches for a man to replace Tom Gola, who was lost to the Army.

Varsity hopefuls who are putting pressure on the letter-winners are Jim Reed, Ben Davis, Mike Newell, Art Bilyeau, Tom Brown and Harry Finerow.

Good Height
Walsh can boast good height, but lacks speed and in several cases experience. His job will be to mold the "green" players with the returnees and to find replacements for two backcourt playmakers who have graduated.

Robert Ellison is tutoring the jayvees and is also blessed with a large group. His problem is height and not speed.

He can build around Larry and Don Gray, Matt Dubiner, Martin Kosofsky and Sam Painter, all from last year's squad. Newcomers include Bob Wood, Corky Knight, Dick Hoffman, Bob Eck, Joe Adler and Pat Blackwell.

Giants Face Cardinals in Headliner

(By The Associated Press)
The Chicago Cardinals and New York Giants, tied for first place in the National Football League's Eastern Conference, meet at Yankee Stadium tomorrow (Sunday) in the big NFL game of the day.

All 12 teams will be in action, with other important struggles scheduled between the Detroit Lions and Redskins at Washington, and the Green Bay Packers invading Chicago for another meeting with the Bears.

Detroit leads the Western Conference with six straight victories with the Bears breathing on the Lions' necks with a 5-1 record.

In other contests, the Baltimore Colts take on the Browns at Cleveland, the Pittsburgh Steelers play the Eagles at Philadelphia, and the San Francisco 49ers tackle the Rams in Los Angeles.

With good weather, the Giants look for a record crowd of some 60,000 at Yankee Stadium. New York shifted home base this year from the Polo Grounds, which could not accommodate such a turnout.

This will be the second meeting of the fall between the eastern leaders. The Cardinals having outscored New York in the second game of the season at Chicago, 35-27. The Cardinals won four in a row, led to Washington 17-14, but came back last Sunday to defeat Philadelphia 28-17.

The Giants have won four in a row, capped by a hard earned 17-14 win over Pittsburgh last week.

Onteora Scores Comeback Victory

The Onteora Chiefs splurged for 30 points in the last period to score an 86-72 comeback victory over Boulevard Gulf on the Onteora Central School gym in Boiceville.

Trailing 60-56, the Chiefs rallied in fine fashion to overtake their foes who registered just 12 points in the deciding quarter.

Marty Warnes and Les Foster scored 27 and 21 points, respectively to pace the success. However, top point-getter for the game was Joe Tremper of Boulevard with 27.

Other double figures were Jim Massa (16), Nick Nagale (15), Ed Witko and Bill McCabe 12 each and Doug Glass 10.

Forty-seven candidates, largest turnout for Ellenville Central school in 20 years, greeted Coach Charlie Walsh for initial workouts as the Blue Devils prepare for their opener Nov. 27 against Catskill.

Heading the contingent are five lettermen. They include Mike Tannenbaum, captain, Pete Anderson, Bob Gorman, Howie Randall and Alan Lonsie. Tannenbaum is a first-year forward who received All-DUSO League mention last season.

Varsity hopefuls who are putting pressure on the letter-winners are Jim Reed, Ben Davis, Mike Newell, Art Bilyeau, Tom Brown and Harry Finerow.

Good Height
Walsh can boast good height, but lacks speed and in several cases experience. His job will be to mold the "green" players with the returnees and to find replacements for two backcourt playmakers who have graduated.

Elorde Beaten

Berrios Captures Decision

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—When they get around to picking the fighter who has improved the most in 1956, little Miguel Berrios should get a solid vote.

Berrios, a 5-2 Puerto Rican, made it two in a row over Gabriel (Flash) Elorde of the Philippines by winning a unanimous decision in 10 rounds last night at Madison Square Garden. Berrios weighed 128, Elorde 129½.

Ordinary Record
At the start of the year, Berrios was just another willing workman with an ordinary record. After winning eight out of nine in '56, the fiery little gent is rated No. 2 in the division by the National Boxing Association.

Berrios' only defeat this year was a 10-round decision by Cherif Hamia, the classy Algerian, June 15. He wants nothing more than another whack at Hamia who is No. 1.

Offer To Hamia
Billy Brown, International Boxing Club matchmaker at the Garden, said he was cabling Hamia an offer to come over for a 12-round Dec. 21 elimination bout with Berrios. The rematch, however, isn't likely to be made until next year.

Sandy Saddler, the feather-weight champ, hasn't defended since he stopped Elorde in 13 rounds Jan. 18 at San Francisco. However he was been sidelined by an auto accident and isn't sure when he'll be able to fight again. The New York State Athletic Commission is pressing Saddler to make some move.

Elorde, suffered cuts around the eye and forehead requiring 18 stitches.

Opens Cut
Berrios opened the eye cut in the sixth and then took charge of the Philippine southpaw.

Judge Harold Barnes had it a walkover 8-2 for Berrios and Judge Leo Birnbaum scored it a lopsided 7-2-1. Only referee Mark Conn had it close 5-4-1 but all voted for the little Puerto Rican. The Associated Press was 7-2-1 for Berrios.

If ever a man deserved the plaudits of the local sports world, it's Addison (AD) Jones, who receives the American Legion civic achievement award on Nov. 14.

Mr. Jones' contributions to bowling, baseball and basketball are well known to the sports gentry. His record in the polo drives and other civic projects is equally impressive.

We hope the sports folks will be represented in impressive numbers at next week's testimonial to Mr. Bowling of Kingston.

The Eleventh Frame:

Johnny Ferraro's gorgeous new tenpin palace rapidly taking shape on the By-Pass. Ditto for Red Sangli's new Cedar street location. . . . Poughkeepsie Bowling Association, a high class organization, can be counted on to stage real show for the New York State tournament. Guys like Bert Rhea give the Bridge City association a solid foundation. A tip of the hat to Tom Carline for his brilliant shooting in the Hudson Valley League, a shining example of what determination can do. . . . Up-and-down guy, Carmen Spadafora, 90-210-122. . . . Gov. Clinton Pharmacy had its share of woes in a recent Good Neighbor League session. Only three of six eligible bowlers showed up. At the end of the first game, anchor man Irv Grubman had a ball land on his foot and was rendered hors de combat, forcing forfeiture of the last two sets. . . . Rosemary Pillsworth, a naturally talented girl athlete, gives high promise of developing into a tenpin ace.

Secretarial Suggestions:

Bowling secretaries, who are now doing a swell job furnishing first names of all keepers, could help put sparkle in writeups with more detailed descriptions of high singles. Anything from 270 up should be described; how many strikes in a row, any taps, whether the bowler is right or left-handed, what alleys the score was rolled. When big series are rolled it is sometimes interesting to know how many "open" frames (splits-misses) occurred. . . . When new individual or team records are established, it should be noted who held the previous record. Those items require just a little extra effort but make bowling news a lot easier to read. To say John Jones rolled 279 really isn't enough. He might have started the game with a miss or a split. Who can know unless the secretary reports it.

Splits and Misses:

Middletown observers are hailing Sam Taylor as one of the best young bowlers in the mid-Hudson district. . . . Phil Versace, the most wanted man in bowling (by Kingston teams) was invited to the Madison Square Garden tenpin eliminations that reach a climax Tuesday night. . . . Several Kingston hotshots expect to take the trip to the Garden to see Bill Lillard and Ann Castaline meet the finalists. . . . A tip of the hat to Ralph Frederick, former sports ed. now managing editor of the Port Jervis Gazette, for a whopping 265 solo in a recent league session. . . . John Avello of Poughkeepsie, who is well known to local HVBK keepers, shot a 704 series Wednesday night. He attributed his new found success to a tip offered by Bill Lillard in an NEA instruction series. The last time we saw Avello we thought he had great spirit and determination but not too much natural equipment. His switch to "spot bowling" as suggested by Lillard may send him skyrocketing to the upper brackets in the mid-Hudson area.

Tenpin Tatting:

Near-misses in the triplicate department: Chris Gallop 111-111-116, Arlene Patow 101-103-101, Don Siskler 193-193-192. . . . Up the ladder of success: Herb Van Deusen 125-189-223. . . . According to ABC rules a man becomes a member of a team once he bowls. He can transfer only if the captain releases him and two-thirds of other team captains agree. This would seem to be simplicity itself but a great many leagues do not know this rule exists, and because in many cases the available substitutes are limited, the same team finds a man bowling with them one night and against them another. Someone digs up the ABC rule and an unholly row ensues. The situation demands a league rule (which will hereby nullify the ABC's) defining whether a man may bowl with just one team or all.

Doubleheader on Tap

Knicks Play Warriors Sunday in the Garden

The New York Knickerbockers return to the basketball court in Madison Square Garden, tomorrow night (Sunday), opposing the world champion Philadelphia Warriors. The first game of the NBA doubleheader, starting at 7:15 p. m., will pit the Minneapolis Lakers, with ex-Knicks Walt Dukes, against the Rochester Royals. The bill will not be televised.

The Knicks split their first four games (not counting Saturday's tilt at Philadelphia), beating Boston and Fort Wayne while dropping close ones to Boston and St. Louis.

Sears Consistent

The consistent scoring of Ken Sears has been the feature of New York's attack thus far. The "big cat" from the West Coast, making a strong bid to supplant Carl Braun as the Knicks' top scorer, clicked off 78 points in the first four games for an average of 19.5 per game. His lowest output came in the first clash, against Boston, when he tallied a mere 16.

A close duel for runner-up honors to Sears exists among Harry Gallatin, Ray Felix and Braun. Gallatin has posted 61 points and the other two are tied with 59 each. In the rookies' race, Richie Guerin holds a thin edge over Ron Sobie, 35 to 34, both having turned in sparkling performances thus far.

Last season, the Knicks gave the Warriors more trouble than any other team in the league, splitting the 12-game series. They showed they haven't lost the magic touch by winning two of three pre-season exhibition tests from them.

Gola Gone

The Warriors, lacking only Tom Gola, will send their stalwarts, Neil Johnston, Paul Arizin, Jack Goren, Larry Costello and Joe Graboski into action against the local five.

Minneapolis, showing results of its rebuilding program, has been strengthened by rookies Jim Paxson of Dayton and Bob Leonard of Indiana along with the 7-0 foot Dukes who will be making his first Garden appearance in a Laker uniform.

Rochester, boasting the youngest point in the loop, will show Sihugo Green in his NBA debut in the Garden. The former Duquesne great has scored 48 points in six loop tilts. Other Royals who have shown to good advantage here are Maurice Stokes, Jack Twyman, Richie Regan and player-coach Bobby Wanzer.

Throwing Bouts In McCoy Hearing

Los Angeles, Nov. 10 (AP) —

"Babe McCoy was my boss man," said ex-fighter Watson Jones. "He gave me back what he thought I should have. I don't remember how much it was, but it was lots less than half."

Jones, testifying yesterday at a state athletic commission hearing, also said that McCoy, former Olympic Auditorium matchmaker, instructed him to take a dive in fights with Joe Kahut in Portland, Ore.; Harry (Kid) Matthews in Tacoma, Wash., and Pat McCafferty in Topeka, Kan.

McCoy would just tell me to go there, make it look good and get out early," Jones, a former light-heavyweight, said. "He'd also say to let the crowd see me get hit on the chin so that it would look good."

Jones' Record

Jones' record shows he was knocked out by Kahut and McCafferty in the second round, and by Matthews in the third.

Under cross examination by McCoy's attorney, Jules Covey, Jones said he never kept records, never knew how much money was coming, and that he borrowed money from McCoy and the Olympic management between 1945-50.

Looking at the portly McCoy sitting 10 feet away, Jones said "I brought every nickel back to you—you stinker."

Then Jones wept.

Blames Ill Health

McCoy blamed ill health when he resigned from the Olympic. He kept his matchmaker's license, which could be revoked if charges are substantiated that he fixed fights, acted as a underdog manager, and associated with gangsters.

Georgie Hansford and Frank Lieberman, former fighters, testified that McCoy telephoned Hansford in Chicago and instructed him to throw a fight with lightweight Enrique Bolanos in San Antonio, Tex. in 1946. The record shows that Hansford lost by a knockout in the second.

McCoy Proposition

Lieberman said he answered the phone and turned the call over to Hansford, who later told him of McCoy's proposition.

At a hearing last spring, McCoy testified that he had never talked to Hansford on the telephone. Commission enforcement officer David Luce said that in the light of testimony by Hansford and Lieberman, McCoy could be prosecuted for perjury.

Japan Tops in Suicides

Tokyo (AP)—Japan has more suicides per capita than any other nation. The welfare ministry reported 22,138 in 1955—24.8 per 100,000 population. This was a 1.4 per cent rise over 1954, when Japan also was the world leader, followed by Denmark, Austria, West Germany and Switzerland. The majority of Japan's suicides were committed by persons under 30 and over 60.

Hungarians Get Rousing Welcome From Australians

Melbourne, Nov. 10 (AP)—Hungary's Olympic team received a tumultuous welcome today while at nearby Puckpynal Mervyn Lincoln turned in a 4-04.8 mile in the feature of a pre-Olympic track carnival.

These were the latest developments on the Olympic scene with the opening of the games on Nov. 22 less than two weeks away.

The Hungarian athletes, many of whom fought against the Russians in the recent rebellion, were the center of attraction on their arrival at Essendon Airport.

1,000 Persons

More than 1,000 persons, including a small group of Russians, were on hand, but the Russians were completely snubbed.

Most in the crowd were Hungarians who came to Australia years ago. They wore the Hungarian colors of red, white and green with mourning stripes of black.

To the chant of an American version of "We Want a Touchdown" they yelled the Hungarian war cry of "Hooy Hooy Hoorah."

Tears flowed down the cheeks of the athletes, some of them also wearing mourning stripes, as the crowd sang Hungary's National Anthem.

Emotional Voices

The big reception room at the airport rang with emotional voices as members of the Hungarian delegation joined in.

The Russian contingent, headed by Mikhail Pesliak, village commandant, and Peter Sobolev, Soviet Olympic attaché, were present to join in the greeting, but they were completely ignored by the Hungarians, including Hungary's own chief of mission, Arpad Csanday.

The Hungary athletes declined to talk politics or to tell of their recent experiences apparently because they feared for the safety of relatives at home.

Lincoln Wins

Lincoln won the mile by 20 yards in the pre-Olympic competition at Puckpynal, 65 miles from Melbourne, as the favorite, Jim Bailey of Australia, and England's Chris Chataway came in 3rd and 4th. New Zealand's Murray Halberg finished second.

The competition lost some of its luster because of the absence of the U. S. and Russian teams and also because John Landy, holder of the world mile record, did not compete.

Shot, Run Over Twice

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—A motorcycle cop was shot twice and run over twice yesterday by a motorist he stopped to give a ticket for speeding. Critically hurt was Eddie J. Kellner, 28. He was shot in the abdomen and shoulder, and his legs were crushed. Charged with assault on murder was Hollis G. Thom, 40, of Handley, Tex. Thom was captured by police who chased him through heavy traffic and then shot a hail of lead into a pickup truck he was driving.

Teacher College Enrollment Up, May Aid Shortage

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10 (AP)—Higher enrollments in New York state's teachers colleges are giving rise to hopes that the shortage of high-qualified teachers will cease.

To the State Education Department, the teacher shortage is more a matter of quality than quantity.

Commissioner James E. Allen reports that 5,200 freshmen were admitted to the state's teachers colleges this year, a 37 per cent increase over the 3,800 who enrolled in 1953.

There is reason to believe that the new crop is of a higher caliber, the commissioner said.

Up 71 Per Cent

The number of applications for admission to the schools rose 71 per cent in the same period, Allen reported. This, he said, probably permitted the schools ## to be more selective.

Allen said the increases presumably were related to improved salary schedules.

New minimums set by the state last year—$3,500 a year for beginners and $5,100 for teachers with 10 years' experience—are the highest in the country, Allen said.

"Many of our school districts are paying substantially above these minimums," he added.

Campaign for $1,600

But the State Teachers Assn. is campaigning for a $1,600 increase.

Earl L. Vandermeulen, association president, said the group was prepared to campaign later for a $5,000 to $10,000 salary schedule.

There are approximately 100,000 teachers in the state.

In connection with the quality of the teachers, an Education Department spokesman said "we can always get somebody to conduct the class, but he may not be as well-qualified as we would like."

Most Critical Issue

The Teachers Assn. calls the shortage of qualified teachers

the most critical issue confronting education.

A spokesman for the association said more than 5,000 teachers were serving on substandard or emergency licenses. He added that this number, which he called a record, is continuing to grow.

The Education Department says many of the teachers who do not fully meet state standards would qualify in most other states.

The department reports that six per cent of the public school students in the state are on split shifts. It attributes this mainly to shortages of classrooms.

The average elementary school class in the state has 30 pupils, the department said. This, most educators agree, is the maximum number desirable.

This year's public school enrollment is estimated at 2,567,400, four per cent over last year's.

The department approved 366 new building projects last year, the greatest number in more than 20 years, Allen said.

Greentree Express Wins

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 10 (AP)—Greentree Express, driven by Jimmy Cruise, finished with a rush to win the featured Crestwood pace at Yonkers Raceway last night by a neck ahead of the favored Easter Dawn. Dance Me Loose was third. Greentree Express paced the mile in 2:04 2/5 and paid $8.40.

Japan Tops in Suicides

Tokyo (AP)—Japan has more suicides per capita than any other nation. The welfare ministry reported 22,138 in 1955—24.8 per 100,000 population. This was a 1.4 per cent rise over 1954, when Japan also was the world leader, followed by Denmark, Austria, West Germany and Switzerland. The majority of Japan's suicides were committed by persons under 30 and over 60.

Hungarians Get Rousing Welcome From Australians

Melbourne, Nov. 10 (AP)—Hungary's Olympic team received a tumultuous welcome today while at nearby Puckpynal Mervyn Lincoln turned in a 4-04.8 mile in the feature of a pre-Olympic track carnival.

These were the latest developments on the Olympic scene with the opening of the games on Nov. 22 less than two weeks away.

The Hungarian athletes, many of whom fought against the Russians in the recent rebellion, were the center of attraction on their arrival at Essendon Airport.

1,000 Persons

More than 1,000 persons, including a small group of Russians, were on hand, but the Russians were completely snubbed.

Most in the crowd were Hungarians who came to Australia years ago. They wore the Hungarian colors of red, white and green with mourning stripes of black.

To the chant of an American version of "We Want a Touchdown" they yelled the Hungarian war cry of "Hooy Hooy Hoorah."

Tears flowed down the cheeks of the athletes, some of them also wearing mourning stripes, as the crowd sang Hungary's National Anthem.

Emotional Voices

The big reception room at the airport rang with emotional voices as members of the Hungarian delegation joined in.

The Russian contingent, headed by Mikhail Pesliak, village commandant, and Peter Sobolev, Soviet Olympic attaché, were present to join in the greeting, but they were completely ignored by the Hungarians, including Hungary's own chief of mission, Arpad Csanday.

The Hungary athletes declined to talk politics or to tell of their recent experiences apparently because they feared for the safety of relatives at home.

Lincoln Wins

Lincoln won the mile by 20 yards in the pre-Olympic competition at Puckpynal, 65 miles from Melbourne, as the favorite, Jim Bailey of Australia, and England's Chris Chataway came in 3rd and 4th. New Zealand's Murray Halberg finished second.

The competition lost some of its luster because of the absence of the U. S. and Russian teams and also because John Landy, holder of the world mile record, did not compete.

Shot, Run Over Twice

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—A motorcycle cop was shot twice and run over twice yesterday by a motorist he stopped to give a ticket for speeding. Critically hurt was Eddie J. Kellner, 28. He was shot in the abdomen and shoulder, and his legs were crushed. Charged with assault on murder was Hollis G. Thom, 40, of Handley, Tex. Thom was captured by police who chased him through heavy traffic and then shot a hail of lead into a pickup truck he was driving.

Fights Last Night

New York (Madison Square Garden) — Miguel Berrios, 128, Puerto Rico, outpointed Gabriel (Flash) Elorde, 129½, Philippines, 10.

SQUARE DEAL—Bobby Cox holds as Dick Borstad kicks field goals through specially-modified goal posts on Minnesota's practice field. The target area paid off. The Gophers won two games on last-minute placements by the fullback.

Ike Encourages Newcombe in Personal Letter

Tokyo, Nov. 10 (AP)—President

Eisenhower told Dodge pitcher Don Newcombe that "I for one was pulling for you" in the World Series but "hard luck is something that no one in the world can explain."

94 Degrees Mark New LA Record

Los Angeles, Nov. 10 (AP)—A record-breaking fall heat wave has sent temperatures up to 100 degrees in some Southern California communities.

The late season hot spell broke a 52-year record in Los Angeles yesterday with a high of 94 degrees. Until then the hottest Nov. 9 on record was in 1904 when it got to be 91.

It was the third day of the heat wave and the third day the temperature exceeded old records. And a high of 95 was forecast for today.

Three cities recorded 100 degrees yesterday — Santa Ana, San Gabriel and Venice. It was 98 in Long Beach and 95 in San Diego.

A shift in the prevailing winds letting hot desert air flow over the coastal plain is causing the heat wave, says the weatherman.

Cool Air Spreads Over Atlantic Areas

(By The Associated Press)

Freezing weather hit northern Florida today as cold Canadian air spread over all the Atlantic coast states.

It was warmer in northwestern Montana, with temperatures in the 50s, than in sections of northern Florida, where Cross City reported a below freezing reading of 30 degrees.

Temperatures were 15 to 25 degrees lower than yesterday morning in most of Florida. Miami reported 52. Frost warnings were posted for northern and central sections of the Sunshine State as well as for the Gulf states.

While the chilly air cooled Florida, Southern California's autumn heat wave was expected to continue over the weekend. Readings in the 90s were reported again yesterday, with a top of 100 at the beach city of Venice. Record marks for the day included 96 at San Diego; 94 at Los Angeles; 93 at Santa Maria and 85 at Fresno.

Woman Killed, Two Injured in Route 17 Crash

Mahwah, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP)—One woman died and two were injured last night after an auto and a bus collided on Rt. 17 near the New York state line.

Mrs. Mildred Meyers, 50, of 129 Levitt avenue, Bergenfield, died shortly afterward at Good Samaritan Hospital, Suffern, N. Y.

Two others in the auto were injured: Mrs. Josephine Marinelli, 39, 38 Stuyvesant Rd., and Rose Kineratick, 34 Stuyvesant Rd., both Teaneck.

All in Bus Escape

The bus driver, Fred Briede, 49, of 58-26 256th street, Little Neck, N. Y., and all 30 passengers in the bus escaped injury.

Police Chief Charles E. Smith said the car apparently made a left turn in front of the bus near the Ford Motor Co. plant, turning into Island avenue.

That section of Rt. 17 has been named "Butcher Boulevard" because of the frequent fatal mishaps there. It currently is being widened.

The bus, owned by the Vermont Transit Co., Inc. of Burlington, Vt., was northbound at the time. The car was traveling south.

Driver in Question

Police said they have not yet determined who was driving the auto. All three women were in the front seat.

Mrs. Marinelli was treated at good Samaritan for a fractured right thigh and cuts and bruises of the head and limbs. Miss Kineratick was treated for multiple cuts and bruises and a possible back injury.

GOC to Discuss

all within its power to reduce the burden that has been caused by manning these posts. I am quite certain that as they make added improvements in our detection system additional changes will be made. In the meantime, I implore you to do the job that is required of you."

Mrs. Logan said she has been advised that when properly prepared for ready reserve, the Albany Filter Center and Harrisburg Filter Center and their observation posts will be placed in ready reserve.

She said that since the Kingston post reports to the Albany center it will go on ready reserve "when so directed."

Mrs. Logan explained these filter centers will have a military controller on duty 24 hours a day in addition to their usual military cadres and training teams.

Recruiting and training of volunteers for filter centers and observation posts' duties will be conducted and periodic exercises will be held, Mrs. Logan said.

She indicated observation posts and their equipment such as telephone, lights, and heating equipment will be maintained in good repair.

Mrs. Logan, commending the work of the local post as outstanding, urged every observer, active and inactive, to attend Monday's meeting.

She cited the 100 per cent ratings the local post has received from the New York State Civil Defense Commission and the Albany Filter Center.

Mrs. Logan praised the sacrifice the observers have made in manning the post during the last four years "and now they will have the satisfaction they have done their part and will be ready and willing to report whenever they are called."

Uptown Stores

stores and a host of other types of business.

Each store will feature many items for the Veterans' Day sale, making up the total of "11,000 items on sale in the uptown stores" the sale committee maintains.

Stores will open at the usual hour in the morning and close at the usual 5 o'clock time but during that time there will be "sparkling new merchandise offered for every member of the family" Jay Melton, chairman of the Special Sale Day committee of the Kingston Uptown Businessmen's Association, assured.

Many of the special sale items will be found in the advertising columns of this edition of The Freeman. There will be many more not specifically advertised.

Composer Frederic Chopin, wrote almost entirely for the piano. He made it a leading instrument in symphonic orchestras.

KVA Will Mark Veterans' Day Here on Monday

Veterans' Day will be observed Monday in this city with an 11 a. m. memorial service and a dance at the municipal auditorium at 9 p. m.

The fire alarm will sound at 11 a. m. The signal will be 11-11 and traffic will be stopped on city streets for one minute while buglers sound taps.

The observance, arranged by the Kingston Veterans Association, will honor veterans of all wars, especially those who made the supreme sacrifice.

Cooperation Urged

The public is asked to cooperate and join in the one minute of silence. Anyone driving at that hour, whether stopped by a policeman or not, is asked to pull their vehicle to the curb.

Veterans' Day replaced Armistice Day by an act of Congress in 1954 and this day has been set aside to honor our living veterans of all wars with memorial services for all those who died in the service of their country.

It is a day to "reconsecrate ourselves to the task of promoting an enduring peace so that the efforts of our veterans shall not have been in vain."

An orchestra, furnished through the cooperation of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, will play for dancing at the auditorium.

A memorial service will be held there during the evening at which time there will be a massing of colors of participating organizations. John McCullough will sing and James M. Krom, secretary of the Kingston Veterans Association will conduct the service.

Mayor to Speak

Guest speakers will include Mayor Frederick H. Stang and City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

There is no charge for the program at the auditorium and the public is invited.

Participating organizations in the Veterans' Day observance are all members of the Kingston Veterans Association, including Tappan Camp, United Spanish War Veterans; Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Kingston Post, 150, American Legion; Company M Veterans Association; Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League; Sons of Union Veterans and St. Ignatius Loyola Catholic War Veterans Post, 1769.

Five Are Killed In Texas Crash

Waco, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—Five persons were killed early this morning when the car in which they were riding hit a bridge abutment.

Two of the dead were children. Another child is in critical condition.

The dead are: J. D. Sims, 31, of Waco; his wife, Wanda Lou, 26; their 9-month-old son Jeffrey Dell, their 8-year-old son, J. Frank, and Mrs. Sims' sister, Margie Nell Gillum, 18.

In critical condition is another Sims child, about 5 years old.

The family was on its way to visit Mrs. Sims' father, Bill Green, an assistant warden at the Angleton Prison Farm.

Highway Patrolman Sam Fulmer said the five were dead on arrival at a hospital.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of highway 14 miles south of Waco on U. S. 77 at 12:30 a. m.

Gas Fumes Blamed In Death of Three

Tokyo, Nov. 10 (AP)—The wife and two children of a New York businessman were killed in their sleep by leaking gas fumes at their home, metropolitan police announced today.

They listed as accidental the death of Mrs. Kyo Okuno, 31, (215 46th avenue) Bayside, N. Y., and her two daughters, Colleen, 8, and Jean, 5.

The husband and father, Noboru (Roy) Okuno, is a New Yorker who has been in Tokyo three years with a trading firm, Nakamine Overseas Co. He was not home at the time of the tragedy last Sunday night.

Police said a loosened gas hose caused the gas fumes to leak into the bedroom.

Mrs. Okuno saved the children came to Japan last April.

Fire Destroys Mansion

Rye, N. Y., Nov. 10 (AP)—A 32-room Victorian style mansion, one of the showplaces of yesterday, was destroyed by fire here early today. It was once the home of the late Simon Ford, New York city hotel owner and real estate man, and his wife, the late Julia Ellsworth Ford, author of children's books. The palatial house, located on Milton Point overlooking Long Island Sound, was built about 70 years ago at a cost of about $100,000. It had not been occupied for several years.

Upstate Woman Is Hurt in Blast At Coast Home

Alameda, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP)—Mrs. Cassius Miller, 72, of Schenectady, N. Y., was injured seriously yesterday when an explosion demolished a chaplain's home at the Naval Air Station here.

Her husband, daughter and son-in-law were less seriously injured.

Cause of the explosion was not known.

Mrs. Miller suffered deep lacerations of the head and face, possible internal injuries and a possible brain concussion.

Her daughter, Mrs. Ralph A. Curtis, suffered a fractured right foot, scalp lacerations and minor burns.

Cmdr. Ralph A. Curtis, a Methodist minister, was cut on the scalp and knee. Dr. Miller, a retired Methodist minister, escaped with minor cuts.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller had been visiting the Curtis home.

Commander Curtis was in the Troy, N. Y., Methodist Conference before joining the navy in 1941.

Polio Meeting Is Set Monday

An organizational meeting for the 1957 March of Dimes will be held Monday at 8 p. m. at the Court House, Wall street.

William A. Kelly, chairman of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, reported the theme for the 1957 drive will be "Let's Finish the Job."

He said much important work still remains to be done in the fight against polio and this will be explained at the meeting.

A state representative of the polio drive will give the latest report on the Salk vaccine and the plans of the national foundation, Mr. Kelly said.

Police Check $18 Downtown Theft

The Monarch Supply Co., 14-18 Ferry street, was entered early today and about $18 in cash was stolen from a desk drawer, police reported.

Officer Michael Mazzucca reported to headquarters at 2:45 a. m. that the rear door of the company building, on the Rondout creek side, "had been pushed in." Officers Gilbert Gray and Gerald McCloskey reported entry was gained through the door.

They said the door was bolted and a barrel of merchandise had been placed against for added security.

Cecil Murkoff, who operates the company, reported about $18 in cash removed from a desk drawer, plus a small amount of change. He said checks were left untouched.

PSC Sets Hearing On Rail Changes

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will hold a hearing Tuesday on proposed passenger schedule changes on the West Shore Division of the New York Central Railroad.

Examiner Van M. Parshall will conduct the hearing in New York city (199 Church street, 10 a. m.).

The commission has given the Central permission to drop 10 trains on the division.

The commission said in an announcement here yesterday that it was not satisfied that proposed changes in schedules of the remaining 39 trains on the division were proper.

The PSC said the Central had posted notices that the changes would be effective Nov. 19.

Firemen Check Kitchen, Brush Fires on Friday

Firemen were called for two kitchen fires, a brush fire and a false alarm Friday night.

A call at 5:53 p. m. was for a fire in a kitchen range at 145 Elmendorf street, a two-story, multiple frame dwelling occupied by Jerome Miller. Meat in the kitchen oven ignited, the report said, and the fire was out on the arrival of Engine 3 from Wiltwyck Station which responded. There was smoke damage throughout the apartment, the report said.

Engine 3, truck 2 from Wiltwyck Station and Wicks Hose were summoned at 8:53 p. m. to 187½ Elmendorf street where an oil fire kitchen range was reported out of adjustment. The fire was out on the arrival of the department and smoke damage was reported.

A bell alarm at 10:16 p. m. from Box 3651, Abeel and Hamilton streets, was a false alarm.

Engine 3 from Wiltwyck Station checked a brush fire at 11:55 p. m. off Hurley avenue near the quarry. It was extinguished with Indian pumps.

10 Yanks Evacuated

Port Said, Egypt, Friday, Nov. 10 (AP)—Ten American citizens, including five Suez Canal pilots, were evacuated from Port Said to Malta today (Friday) by a British warship. From Malta they were to catch other transportation home. The evacuation, carried out two days after the cease-fire between British-French and Egyptian forces, left only a small handful of Americans in this war battered city. They either have homes here or are consular personnel.
